GERMANY MAKES THREE COUNTER-DEMANDS

IRISH TARIFFS.

LABOUR'S ATTITUDE DECIDED

BUT AS YET NOT DIVULGED

AN ANGLO-IRISH CONFERENCE

COMMONS DEBATE

(Reuter's Special Service).

London, July 4.
WILL the British Labour Party oppose the Government's Irish tariff proposals? Although the attitude of the Party has been officially decided upon at a conference between Mr. George Lansbury and Mr. Norton, Chairman of the Irish Labour Party, what their intentions are has not yet been disclosed.

On the eve of the important debate on the proposals, which is due to take place in the House of Commons to-morrow, the two Labour leaders met in a London hotel and discussed the whole question.

NOVEL TRIP TO MACAO IN MOTOR SAMPAN

ADVENTURE WITH FIFTEEN-FOOT SEA SNAKE

In an Aberdeen-built sampan, fitted with a 12 h.p. outboard motor, a French resident, accompanied by a German friend, left Hongkong at 1 a.m. on Friday last for Macao. They are back in Hongkong now, but will long remember their trip, the first to be made to Macao in such a craft.

Mr. R. Poinot is the Frenchman who made the trip of which he told the story to a Telegraph reporter to-day. Mr. Poinot is the proprietor of "The Little Ship" in Pedder Street and his boat is, appropriately named "The Little Ship."

HUGE SEA SNAKE.

"We left Hongkong at 1 a.m. on

Mr. Poinot is here seen with his motor-powered sampler, in which he made his adventurous trip to Macao.

"Friday last," said Mr. Poinot, "and arrived in Macao at 8 a.m. It was a most pleasant seven hours."

"When we were off Cheung Chau, however, we had an amazing experience. I was flashing an electric torch about the boat when a huge snake began to crawl out of the water on to the stern. My friend seized a hammer and, with one hit, sent it floundering back into the water, its head smashed."

"We had a clear view of it swimming about. It was fifteen feet long. It was an inch."

PROPELLOR TROUBLE.

CANCELLATION OF WAR GUILT CLAUSE

INTENSE OPPOSITION EXPECTED

WHILE GERMANY IS OBJECTING TO CERTAIN FEATURES OF THE ALLIED SCHEME FOR A FINAL SETTLEMENT OF THE REPARATIONS PROBLEM, IT IS BELIEVED THAT THE COUNTER-DEMANDS BEING PUT FORWARD ARE MORE FOR THE PURPOSE OF BARGAINING THAN ANYTHING ELSE.

Although no settlement has actually been achieved, a solution is thought to be in sight, and, generally speaking, a hopeful atmosphere prevails.

The Allies have proposed, in lieu of reparations, that Germany should pay a sum of four thousand million marks, but the Germans regard this as being too large, their latest demands including one that this figure be reduced by one-half.

Should the proposed bonds be issued, Germany asks for proper safeguards for her markets and credits. At the moment, M. Herriot the Premier of France, is detained in Paris endeavouring to straighten out the budget tangle, and until he returns to Lausanne no important developments are expected.

STILL HOPE FOR SETTLEMENT

Lausanne, July 3.
A settlement of the reparations issue is in sight, but has not yet been reached.

It is understood that the Germans object to three points of the Five-Power Plan, namely:

- (1) The amount of the payment.
- (2) The conditions attaching to the issue of the bonds.
- (3) The camouflaged safeguarding clause.

WAR-GUILT ISSUE.

They also demand the cancellation of that part of the famous war-guilt clause.

The German demands are likely to arouse the most intense opposition, and are possibly only made for bargaining purposes.—Reuter.

THREE DEMANDS.

Lausanne, later.
The German demands, summarised, are as follows:

- (1) The date for the issue of the bonds must be decided by unanimous vote of the Council of the Bank of International Settlements, and not merely by majority vote.

- (2) Proper safeguards must be arranged for German markets and German credit in the event of the bonds being issued.

- (3) The figure of 4,000,000,000 marks demanded by the Powers must be halved.—Reuter.

HERRIOT'S TASK.

Paris, July 3.
M. Herriot is not returning to Lausanne until Wednesday. He is trying to clear up the Budget deadlock between the Government and the Chamber Finance Commission.—Reuter.

GOVT. TROOPS MASSING

ANTI-COMMUNIST DRIVE READY

Shanghai, July 4.
It is reported that the situation along the Peking-Hankow Railway near the Honan-Hupoh border, where Communists have been creating trouble, is rapidly returning to normal.

This is a result of a defeat inflicted on the Communists by the Government forces.

The troops are now massing at Hsinuangchow and Kwangsei preparatory to the launching of a big-scale offensive by General Liu Shih, who is directing the drive, and who has established his headquarters at Mingkian, on the Peking-Hankow Railway.—Reuter.

Picture shows a typical mass meeting of Hindus assembled on the Maidan, Bombay. Gatherings of this kind have been quite common recently, and have been a factor in arousing the feelings of the masses.

'CLEAR OUT' ORDER TO STUDENTS

DEVELOPMENTS IN VARSITY SQUABBLE

(Telegraph Special.)

Shanghai, July 4.
Two national universities—the Nanking Central University and the Tsingtao University—to-day deserted their Alma Mater.

Students, who have made intolerable the lives of their respective Chancellors, were ordered by the Government to leave the premises.

Those at the Central University did so after many protests which failed to move the authorities, whilst the students at the Tsingtao University carried out the evacuation without demure.

PROFESSORS' POSITION.

A peculiar position prevails at the Central University, where the professors notified the authorities until they had received their salaries and arrears from the Executive Yuan to whom the professors had appealed.

The Executive Yuan referred them to the Ministry of Education, but as yet the demands have not been met.—Reuter.

NEW YORK TRAMPLE ON BOSTON RED SOX

Pittsburgh's Important Win Over Chicago

New York, July 3.
Following two defeats by the Boston Red Sox, the New York Yankees left nothing to chance in their game to-day and ran out winners by 13-2. The encounter between the Senators and the Athletics resulted in the latter securing another victory.

In the National League Pittsburgh again assume the top position by virtue of a victory over Chicago who displaced the Pirates over the week-end. Boston Braves are losing their grip on the championship and have suffered another defeat.

The results follow:

National League.
New York	5
Brooklyn	3
Cincinnati	4
Chicago	4
Boston	3
Philadelphia	4
St. Louis	4
Pittsburgh	5

American League.
Washington	8
Boston	2
Detroit	4
St. Louis	4
Cleveland	7
Chicago	2

In the tie between Detroit and Cleveland Indians, Earle Averill scored a home run for the winners.—Reuter.

SERIOUS BOMBAY RIOTS

FOUR KILLED AND 30 WOUNDED IN STREET CLASHES

MURDER, LOOTING AND ARSON

Bombay, July 4.
FOUR were killed and 30 wounded in serious communal riots which broke out to-day, when many areas in Bombay seethed with angry Hindus and Moslems, who not only engaged in pitched battles, but carried out murder, looted shops and set fire to buildings.

NAZIS ONCE AGAIN IN UNIFORMS

"RED" INCIDENT

Munich, July 4.
For the first time for two years, the Nazis were able to hold a demonstration in their uniforms here to-day.

A procession of 15,000 uniformed "Storm Troops" from all parts of Upper Bavaria paraded the streets, marching past Herr Hitler, who took the salute.

Hitler afterwards addressed a great mass meeting at which were gathered 40,000 of his enthusiastic followers.

There were no serious incidents during the demonstrations, although a crowd of a hundred Communists attempted to break up the Nazis procession.

They were easily dispersed by the police, who made half a dozen arrests.—Reuter.

POLO TRAGEDY

FORMER SHANGHAI MAN KILLED

WHILST PLAYING

London, July 4.
The tragic death of Captain Norman Bott, former manager of the Shanghai Greyhound Racing track occurred to-day, as a result of injuries received in an accident whilst playing polo on Saturday.

Captain Bott was taking part in a game at Bristol, when his pony dropped dead, threw him heavily and rolled on him.—Reuter.

DEFENCE OF OFFICERS

GUILD'S REPLY TO SHAREHOLDER'S COMPLAINT

PAY REDUCTION

The suggestion made by Mr. N. V. Croucher, at the annual meeting of the Douglas Steamship Co., that the floating staff of the Company have not borne the same sacrifices as shareholders, is warmly rebutted in a letter sent to us to-day on behalf of the China Coast Officers' Guild by Capt. T. T. Laurensen, the branch secretary.

Captain Laurensen points out that masters and officers have had their pay reduced, while leave has been temporarily suspended for the past 18 months. He adds, moreover, that leave is an integral part of an officer's pay.

THE LETTER.

The letter is as follows:

Sir.—With reference to a statement made by Mr. N. V. Croucher, at the annual meeting of the Douglas Company, he is reported to have said—

"Our entire capital is only six lakhs and we are spending it all on the Officers and crews. All leave, etc. should be suspended straight away. I don't think the floating staff have borne the sacrifices the shareholders have during this depression."

According to the annual report, the Company have made a profit on working of $82,639.94 with three vessels, after paying for the very expensive loadline surveys for each of these ships.

We wonder what Mr. Croucher expects, in this time of world-wide depression?

PAY REDUCED.

The gentleman referred to is apparently not aware that the Masters and Officers of both departments have had their pay reduced to a 1/8 dollar since 1st April, 1931, and that leave pay has been temporarily suspended for the last eighteen months.

It is ridiculous of Mr. Croucher to say that the entire capital of the Company is being spent on "the Officers and crews" in spite of the fact that a profit has been made during the year of $82,639.94, with three steamers.

Then the same gentleman goes on to say—"All leave, etc. should be suspended right away. I do not think the floating staff have borne the sacrifices, the shareholders have during this period of depression."

It appears, that it is not generally known, that leave is an integral part of an officer's pay, and if leave is suspended as Mr. Croucher requires, the officers must as a consequence demand increased pay as compensation.

HEROISM RECALLED.

This shareholder does not think, the floating staff have borne the sacrifices the shareholders have. The spirit of Mr. Kingsley Frank Woodward, late 3rd Officer a.s. Haiching, killed in action by pirates, 8th December, 1929, might answer. "Our sacrifices are without end, from the going down of the sun, to the going down of the sun again, and we do not complain."

Mr. Croucher is a business man, a stockbroker, and he knows quite well that where there is water there is risk, and shipping ventures are no certainty. He was quite prepared to take the chance with Douglas Company shares. They still appear to be a good gamble. Why does Mr. Croucher, if it is he, wish the Masters and Officers to make more sacrifices than they have already made?

The Law Society and the Medical Association increased their charges by 50% to compensate for the fall of silver but the Masters and Officers of the Merchant Navy have their pay reduced by ten to twenty per cent.—Yours, etc.,

T. T. LAURENSEN,
Joint Branch Secretary.

The late ex-King Manoel of Portugal whose death is just reported.

Aces and kings are always welcome away an ace and a king in order to meet his contract.

The Bidding.The contract bidding was South
one diamond, West one spade, North three clubs, East passed and South went to three No Trump.
North bid four clubs as the three
No Trump may simply be a minimum response to his forcing bid, but when South goes to four No Trump to show the spade suit well stopped, North passes.The Play.West's opening lead is the queen of spades. Would you discard a small heart from dummy? If so, you will be unable to make your contract. The proper plan is to discard the ace of diamonds from dummy so that you will not be blocked in the dummy later on.
The declarer wins the trick with the ace of spades and immediately returns the king of spades, now discarding the king of diamonds from dummy.The declarer then starts with his queen of diamonds and runs off six straight diamond tricks. West discarding everything but the jack and ten of spades and the ace, ten and nine of hearts. East holds the eight of spades, the queen of hearts and the queen, ten and seven of clubs.Declarer now plays the deuce of clubs, winning the trick in the dummy with the ace, and then cashes his king of clubs. The opposition win the last three tricks, but by discarding his ace and queen so as to unblock the diamond suit the declarer has made his contract of four No Trump.MR. E. OLIVEIRA.*FUNERAL AT HAPPY VALLEY

Organized like a rebel army and having a very good time out of the proceedings, World War veterans recently decided to make a row about the bonus. Here they are at St. Louis, after landing there on a commandeered freight train.

MAN HUNTERS

BY MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Susan Carey, pretty and 19, is secretary for Ernest Heath, Chicago architect. She lives with her Aunt Jessie on the west side. One of her suitors is her Lanman, young musician, who asks her to marry him and is refused. Jack Waring, a man about town who is divorced, takes her driving one night and kisses her. She resolves never to go with him again. Ray Flannery, employed in a neighboring office, gives her some advice on popularity. Susan is in love with Bob Dunbar, handsome young millionaire who met at business school, but she believes he is engaged to Denise Actroyd, a debutante. Denise asks Susan, Ben and some others to attend a house party. Dunbar appears. He drinks too much and tells Susan she is a flirt. She makes him stop his car and gets out. Ernest Heath happens along and drives her back to the Actroyds. His wife, who is jealous, warns him against doing it.

CHAPTER XXVI

"Did you have a good time?" Rose asked. It was Sunday afternoon, a grey and lifeless Sunday.

"It was all right," Susan said tonelessly.

"Well, I must say you don't sound enthusiastic!"

Susan said she was sorry. She tried to whip herself into the response Rose wanted. The lace dress had been a great success she assured her.

"How about Ben? Did he like it? Did you come back together?"

"I didn't see him this morning," Susan said vaguely. "I got up early and took the nine o'clock train."

Rose gasped. "My dear, what for?"

"Oh, I just wanted to."

How could she explain the urge that had sent her rushing back to the city and the safety of the little house? She had not slept the long night through. Phrases of Bob's had kept recurring to her. "Not the sort of girl I thought you were—Denise told me you went with free and easy crowd—you can't always tell about angel faces."

Of course he had been drinking, but that was no excuse. She saw plainly Denise's purpose in inviting her. She longed only to be away from the big, unfriendly house. Even the note pushed under her door by a servant as Susan packed her bag had not deterred her.

"I'm sorry," the note had said. "I acted the fool last night. Don't remember all I said but hope you will forgive me." It was signed with Bob's initials.

There had been a maid dusting the great hall as she passed. She had walked the two miles to the station feeling sick and faint and longing for some coffee. Back in the city she had stopped at a lunch counter in the big terminal and the thick cup of steaming liquid shoved at her by a rosy lad in a starched uniform had put new heart into her. It had given her courage to go home and face Aunt Jessie's many questions.

Tomorrow—Susan wondered about to-morrow. The night before it had seemed the simplest, most natural thing in the world to turn to Ernest Heath. Now she was doubtful. Hadn't she been over-hasty and impulsive? She wondered if Heath would not resent her attitude of the night before. She had been so distraught that at the time there had seemed nothing else to do. Now she was conscious of nervous dread over the prospect of meeting him again. Last night everything had been unreal. Today they had resumed their proper outlines. She was Susan Carey in a white lace dress, being driven to a party on the north shore.

Heath came in, ill at ease and nervous, scarcely glancing at her. With instincts abnormally sharpened by dread Susan imagined his greeting was unusually cool.

"Good morning, Miss Carey," Her reply was scarcely audible but at least the moment was over. Susan breathed more freely and went about her tasks with an intense, almost fierce concentration. She was grateful to her employer for not referring to the Saturday night's incident. For the first time she began to think of Heath as a man rather than as an employer. His unflinching courtesy, even his coolness and stiffness now seemed virtues. She felt tremendously grateful to him. Outwardly nothing had changed but actually the two were conscious of each other.

Of Bob the girl refused to think. That was finished now. It was a book she had closed, a book that had begun rather charmingly but ended badly. She had written Denise a curt little note telling her nothing of what she really felt. It had cost her something to do that.

Susan was a girl for the most few days that even Aunt Jessie was alarmed. Aunt Jessie had tried, even as Rose, to draw Susan out on the subject of the house party. "This raddling around leads to no good," Aunt Jessie scolded. If she had expected to rouse her niece's spirit by this tried and true remark she was disappointed.

"I guess may be you're right," Susan had said drearily. "I think I'll go to bed early tonight. I'm terribly tired."

Aunt Jessie had to hide her exasperation.

"I declare, I don't know what's got into the girl," she would mutter to herself, swishing the mop around in the big dish pan or sweeping the back porch with energetic fury.

Somehow Susan managed to get through days at the office. Next week would usher in her birthday. At 20 a birthday should be an event, a celebration. For Susan it seemed neither this year.

When Ben telephoned she told him she was busy. She had not seen him since the eventful night of the house party. Quite unreasonably she blamed Ben in her heart. If he had not been there, she would think, perhaps things might have been different. Susan went to movies with Rose, washed her hair, and darned her stockings with beautiful, invisible stitches. She borrowed books from the library and read them with her mind far away. Everything seemed empty and futile. Some days—the easiest ones—passed in a sort of grey haze when she felt nothing at all. There were other times when the turn of a head, a man's voice calling to another across a restaurant or a phrase leaping at her from the pages of a book awoke her to something like agony.

She wondered why people said the young were happy. They certainly weren't. At least she wasn't. She kept reaching out and striving for things she could never have. It would be better to be like Ray, who accepted everything at its face value.

Over their cafeteria luncheon Susan happened to mention the fact that the day was her birthday. Ray widened her eyes.

"My eye! What did the boy friend give you?"

Susan smiled. "Haven't any boy friend."

Ray looked shrewd. "Expect me to believe that?"

her. "You're plenty good-looking—that is, if anybody likes the tall type. And you could have a good time if you only put your mind to it."

Susan ate her ice cream. "Maybe that's the trouble. I don't care enough," she said.

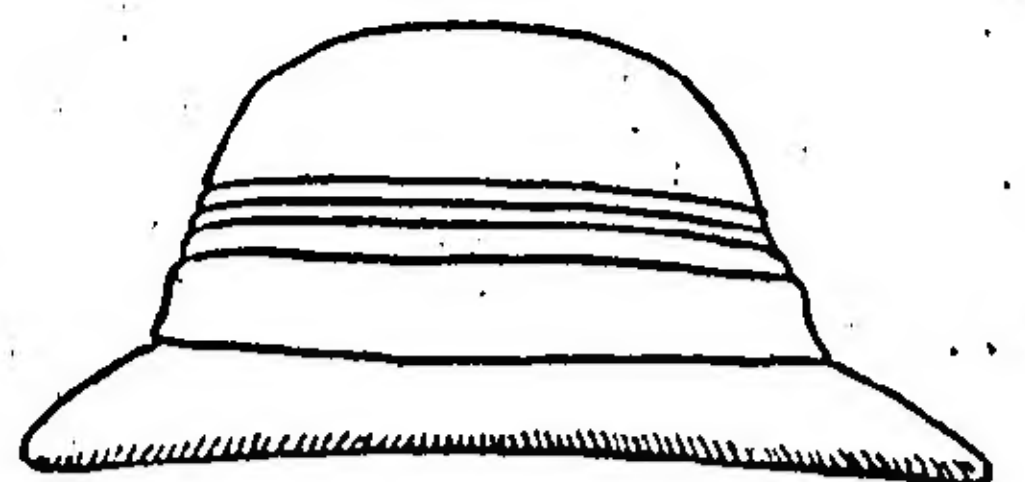

Ray announced, "It's just plain dumb. That's what it is! If you'd wear some snappy clothes and use a little more makeup, you'd be real cute. Why don't you come up to my house some night and let Mamma fix you up?"

"You're awfully kind," Susan told her. "I'll think about it." She squeezed Ray's plump little arm as they went out. Yes, it must be comfortable to be like Ray. Life would be simple if you felt as she did about everything.

It was unaccountable but Susan's heart had lightened somewhat. She told Pierson shily that it was her birthday and he joked about it. (Continued on Page 10).

C.B.C. NIGHT FETE

HOME TEAM'S BRILLIANT
WIN IN RELAY RACE

The first gala water fete of the season organised by the Chinese Bathing Club turned out to be a big success on Saturday evening when the swimming events and a polo match between the C.B.C. and Artillery were witnessed by a gathering of 2,000 spectators. All the events were contested with great keenness.

A most thrilling finish was witnessed in the relay race, which was open to the Colony. The V.R.C. team put up a strong challenge to the C.B.C. contestants, and in a thrilling finish the V.R.C. members lost by a few inches. The other contesting teams were the South Wales Borderers, the Chinese Y.M.C.A. and the Civil Service Bathing Club. The European Y.M.C.A. were unable to compete owing to the absence of one of the members.

The inclusion of the diving items, novelty numbers and races for beginners and women gave variety to the evening's entertainment. One of the most enjoyable events in the programme was undoubtedly the water polo match played between the C.B.C. and the Artillery. The Chinese played a superior game and had an easy win. Scoring three of the six goals for the C.B.C., Sek Kam-pui, Miss Ng Shun-hing, Time 2.50 secs.

The blindfold race, the novelty water melon race and pillow fight aroused much laughter from the spectators. The pillow fight in particular proved one of the evening's most popular items.

The swimming committee and its capable secretary, Mr. Chiu Keung-wah, were congratulated for organising such a successful night fete.

Mrs. Peter Doo presented the prizes at the conclusion of the meeting.

V.R.C. Night Fete.

The Victoria Recreation Club held a very successful swimming gala, the second of the season, in the Club's bath on Saturday night, in the presence of a large gathering of members and friends.

L. Roza Pereira showed convincing form to win both the diving event and the life-saving race. H. M. Remedios came first in the 100 yards "A" Class Handicap, an event which was well contested by five other good swimmers. S. V. Gittins and W. Lawrence tied for the second place in this event.

A water polo match at the conclusion of the programme was won by Dr. D. Laing's team, which defeated C. E. Roza Pereira's team by five goals to one. Dr. Laing's men showed better combination and easily penetrated the weak defence of their opponents.

Results: 50 Yards Boys' Handicap.—1, L. Castilho; 2, G. Souza. Time: 32.4 secs.

WHY NOT THE LATEST.

Much has been said about the Economy of Automobile Production by the Motor Giants with world wide manufacturing subsidiaries.

The fact is, of course that an independent manufacturer, provided he has enough production to demand, and get, the lowest prices on raw materials—as Studebaker does—can concentrate manufacturing and General Management to such an advantage that, assuming that Studebaker and one of these giants produce exactly the same car, Studebaker can produce it for less money. It's wise to buy a Studebaker.

LEAGUE LOANS

These are days in which the League of Nations is being subjected to very considerable criticism, much of it quite undeserved. Amongst the latest charges to be made by unkindly critics is that the League has been guaranteeing large numbers of loans on which there have been defaults, and that as a consequence, British investors have been involved in colossal losses. In view of the somewhat unsatisfactory replies that have been given even in Parliament to questions on this subject, it may perhaps be well to recall some of the real facts. Nine loans have been issued in all under "League auspices," being the Austrian and Hungarian reconstruction loans, the refugee and stabilization loan in Greece, a refugee and stabilization loan in Bulgaria, one loan in Estonia and two in Danzig. The total amount of money involved is a little over £60,000,000 of which, of course, only a fraction was raised in England. All these loans bear very high rates of interest, and the interest has been punctually paid up to now.

The loans were floated largely in consequence of the recommendations of the Brussels Conference of 1920, the members of which were independent experts appointed by their Governments. The British members were Lord Chalmers, G.C.B., formerly Permanent Secretary to the Treasury; Lord Cullen, K.B.E., formerly Governor of the Bank of England, and Mr. Henry Bell, General Manager of Lloyds Bank. The first thing done with their proceeds, especially in Austria, was to repay a number of public and private loans, largely from British sources, which had become entirely bad debts. The reconstruction and refugee loans all obviated the necessity for further charity which was costing many Governments, including the British, enormous sums of money. The securities were in every case first-class and these securities still hold good. The difficulties which have arisen, in two cases only, have arisen not on the problem of collection, but on that of transfer. These difficulties are not confined to League loans. Germany, which has not received a League loan, has practically suspended payment of all debts, public and private, for the past year. Hungary has had a similar standstill agreement, and the League loan is practically the only debt, public or private, which she has been paying for many months past. Only in Bulgaria and Greece are the transfers probably to be suspended, but the collection is going on, the amounts being paid into blocked accounts.

In any case it is well to remember that the financial difficulties of Europe would not have arisen if Governments had followed the financial policy for which the League has continuously stood. Those who are now alleging that the League's plans have not worked are the same people who have been doing their best to prevent them from working. It is as though a gang of train wreckers complained because the trains did not run!

On the Phone.

Telephone engineers, accumulating knowledge about the use of that instrument, some time ago made an interesting study of the words used in 500 average telephone conversations. The words counted up to 79,390, but to make this total only 2240 different words were employed by the telephone talkers. The word "I" was used 3999 times, and the word "you" 3540; "the," "a," "on" and "to" followed in order, though far behind in frequency; and the twenty-five words most frequently used were all of one syllable. It appeared also that the twenty-five most used words were all of ancient English origin, a suggestion of rugged purity in telephone speech that it would be more impressive if it were not equally true of the list of short, useful words without which conversation in English would be anywhere seriously embarrassed. "If a telephone system," one reads, "were limited by some rule of nature to carrying not more than 3,000 or so selected words, that comparatively wordless telephone system might still serve the average man without the general discovery that anything was wrong with it." Comparing these words of telephone speech with a like number as they come in printed English, it was found that "I" occurs four times and "you" more than five times as often in the telephone conversations. Spoken and printed speech, however, are dissimilar methods of expression; "I's" and "you's" necessarily occur oftener when two talk together than when one addresses many through the medium of print. But talk by telephone, though the instrument holds the talkers somewhat more closely to the topic that invited them, is much like talk in general; in both cases there are individuals who use much larger vocabularies than most. Expansive talkers, in the enthusiasm of happy conversation, may even forget that they are using a telephone; thought engages thought, and words go back and forth that no student could record as average. But it may fairly be deduced that any man who habitually used a 3000-word telephone system without occasional embarrassment would need hardly more words for ordinary conversation. Obviously, the vocabulary used in everyday print is much larger than the average reader uses in conversation; it may, and does, happen that the reader, turned talker, translates the larger vocabulary into the words of his smaller one. For telephone purpose it is a good thing that the twenty-five most frequently used words are of ancient English brevity.

DAY BY DAY

ACT, ACT, ACT WITHOUT CEASING, AND YOU WILL NO LONGER TALK OF THE VANITY OF LIFE.—Dinah.

A sum of $76.08 is said to have been embezzled by a folk of a stall in the Central Market, on Sunday, when the man disappeared with his master's money.

Believed to be insane, Wong Fat, of 30, San Piu Terrace, Shaokwan, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday after he had put his hand through a pane of glass at his residence.

Through falling from the roof of 198 Hennessy Road into the back yard of 14, Fleming Road, a young man named Wing-kam was taken to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from multiple injuries.

A woman, of 84, Sai Yeung Choi Street, Mongkok, was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries to her foot caused by a bamboo pole falling on her from the third floor of 35, Hui-phong Road. Her condition did not necessitate her detention in hospital.

In colliding with a Chinese carrying a pot of tea in Shanghai Street, Leung Wah, aged eight, who was running about on the footpath, was scalded when contents of the pot were spilled on him. He was taken to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment but his condition is not serious.

These who patronised the King's Theatre yesterday greatly enjoyed "The Silent Witness," an American-produced film in which several British actors appear. The story is one which holds attention from first to last. It concerns the murder of a girl of loose morals, and the audience is left speculating to the end regarding the guilty person. Lionel Atwill has the main role, and his acting is beyond reproach. He is particularly good in the Old Bailey trial scene. Greta Nissen plays the part of the girl with marked success, while others who contribute to the success attained include Bramwell Fletcher and Wyndham Standing. A film not to be missed.

THEFT EPIDEMIC CONTINUES

MORE ROBBERIES REPORTED

The epidemic of robberies continues, several more being reported by the police to-day as having occurred during the week-end.

A platinum bangle valued at $160, the property of Miss N. Robinson, a sister of the Government Civil Hospital, was reported to have been stolen from 11, Broadwood Road yesterday afternoon. In a report to the police, Miss Robinson states that the bangle was taken from an unlocked drawer in her bedroom some time between 3.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Mr. W. Anderson, of Lyceum Buildings, has reported to the police that he either lost or had stolen from outside his residence a set of ear phones used by deaf persons. The articles were valued at $20.

During the past few days some person stole from 47 A Peking Road, ground floor, the residence of Mrs. Burke, a clock and a cigarette case valued at $60.

A WIFE OF YESTERDAY'S MILLIONAIRE

By MARY BORDEN

SHE wasn't very interesting when I met her a year ago. Her husband wasn't ruined then. He was only afraid that he might be, and, not being in the habit of confiding in her his business worries, he didn't tell her how scared he was. Probably he didn't believe himself that what he feared could possibly come true.

His millions had been made easily and he took them for granted. He was a millionaire because he was lucky, and because he was an American, and because fate had willed him to be one. That he could ever be anything but a millionaire was inconceivable. He might be scared to death, but he didn't really believe fate could play him such a dirty trick, and so he made no provision against misfortune.

A Good Provider.

And he didn't tell his wife to expect it. He didn't dare tell her. All he could bring himself to say was that they'd have to go slow, spend less; that he guessed they had better not have that new steam yacht, they had better get along with the old one, it was only two years old, after all; or maybe he went so far as to ask her to give up her cruise to the Greek Islands or Honolulu, and not put the old yacht in commission this summer.

He may even have said something about her dressmaker's and jeweller's bills. But he would hate doing that, for he had always spoiled her, given her everything she needed. He knew that a husband's chief reason for existence was to be a good provider, and he felt he couldn't honestly blame her if she were peevish at having her amusements interfered with, especially the great amusement she called "shopping."

And she was peevish a year ago, when his fate still hung in the balance, just as any spoilt child would be if its toys were taken away from it; and she was curiously indifferent to his worries or his pathetic pleas for economy.

She knew he was worried, but she didn't believe he had any real reason to be, and so she went on her own sweet way, losing fifty pounds an afternoon at contract and buying sixty-guinea dresses by the dozen, just as if there had been no crash in the stock market in 1929.

Then suddenly the bald truth was announced to her. The millions God had given them were gone, clean gone. It wasn't a question now of giving up all hope of a new yacht or a cruise through the Panama Canal in the old one, or of buying six new dresses instead of twelve; it was a question of selling everything they had got left—houses, yachts, motors, jewels—in order to scrape together enough cash to keep the boys at school and pay the butcher.

Much the same sort of thing has happened to hundreds of others. They have gone down in batches, or, if you like, in battalions. The biggest ones held on longest and dropped furthest, that's all. "It's getting every one of us," they tell you. "John or Bill or Sam was caught a bit sooner. I guess he was lucky."

A Practical Woman.

Perhaps it was the suddenness of the shock that saved the million. Mrs. Burke, a clock and a cigarette case valued at $60.

child into a practical, sensible woman with guts, a sense of humour, the ability to adapt herself quickly to a totally new conception of life and, most astonishing of all, with a fund of generous and loyal affection for the man who had done this to her. Perhaps she always had these qualities, and was simply never asked to display them. In any case, now that she is faced with it, she has played up; this woman who was supposed to take marriage so lightly, change husbands so easily, and be so helplessly fond of money.

I have met a number of these women lately. Sorry for them? No, I'm not sorry for them. Why should I be? They are happy, much happier (if they did not know it) than they were before. Some of them do know it, and say so frankly. They make no attempt to conceal what has happened.

Why should they? All their friends are in the same boat. Some have one general servant now, some have none. They'll ask you to dinner and cook the dinner themselves, and serve it. Nothing could be rarer than such dinner parties. I think of one woman whom I know very well indeed. Her husband, when she married him, was not what would have been called in those days a very rich man; but they had a lovely town house, an ocean-going yacht, a plantation in the south, and spent two or three hundred thousand dollars a year. She was just a very pretty girl with an empty head who had always had a good time. Now York, Washington, South Carolina, California, and Europe were her happy hunting-grounds.

Then He Cracked.

She wasn't, as American women go, very greedy, and she was a companion to him, but she was very frivolous and gay. She liked doing what he liked, hunting, shooting, fishing, and she looked up to him, thought him wonderfully intelligent.

He was one of the lucky ones, because he cracked early at the very beginning in 1929; but he didn't think so then, neither did she. He was able to sell his house in town and the furniture in it, and his yacht, and with this he started a small business up State, near the Canadian border. His plantation he couldn't sell. It was a white elephant. His business struggled along; it is still struggling along.

By a tremendous and constant effort he is wringing a bare, uncertain living out of it, but he has to stay up there in the north, and there is no place in that northern wilderness where his wife and children can live. So she lives on the plantation in the south, alone with the children. She has lived there all the winter. It is a very lonely part of the south. She sees no one. Her husband can't afford to get down often. He has been twice in six months for three days, and she can't afford to go to him. Trains are too expensive, hotels are too expensive, everything is too expensive. All she can do is to keep perfectly still, not move off the place. She has no car, anyhow.

I went down to see her, and found her in the big old plantation house alone with her three children and a couple of darkies. She is lovelier than ever. She is teaching the children reading, writing, and arithmetic. She gets up at night, has to study it laboriously.

"Isn't It Grand?"

She is going to take the children north for the summer and live in a camp in the woods, near her husband's business. "Isn't it grand?" she said. "We'll all be together again. Bill's got the camp for six months for three hundred dollars ($60). We can do without any servants up there. Mary, that's the coloured girl, has been teaching me to cook and I'm a dandy cook now. Would you believe it?" She laughed.

I asked after Bill. A wistful look came into her eyes. "Bill's fine," she said. "He's had an awful time, and I guess he's pretty lonely up there, but hard work seems to agree with him. He's never been so well in his life."

When she saw me off she said, "If you come back in five years you'll probably find me right here. We'll have gone native by that time, maybe. If Bill's business in the north doesn't plan out, that's what we're going to do." She looked lovely in the small, sleepy railway station in her blue gingham and farmer's hat. Perhaps she will wear a sunbonnet and grow old under its shade. She won't mind.

Mr. W. Jackson, into Secretary of the Hongkong Stock Exchange, and old resident of Hongkong, advertises that he has established himself as a Stock and Share Broker, trading under the firm name of the Hongkong Stock and Share Agency, at Exchange Building (Third Floor).

"I want a book for a man who is laid up with rheumatism, or lumbago—I don't remember which."

BIG RUSH TO CONVERT WAR LOAN

BUSINESS FIRMS GIVE LEAD

London, July 4. The Bank of England, and the Post Office Savings Bank report a big rush to convert the 5 per cent. War Loan.

Among the early applications are those of Messrs. Harrod's (£600,000), Messrs. Whiteley's (£145,000), and the National Union of Teachers (£172,000).

The N.U.T. secretary emphasises that the Union is converting its holdings "despite the 10 per cent. salary 'cut' which the Government has imposed upon us."

One holder has applied for cancellation of his holdings instead of conversion.—Reuter.

VIOLIN TREAT ON FRIDAY

RENEE CHEMET'S PROGRAMME

The distinguished French woman violinist, Mme. Renee Chemet, together with her accompanist, Mme. Anna Seidlova, and personal manager, Mr. W. F. Schultz, will arrive in the Colony from the North-to-morrow morning by the Andre Lebon.

Mme. Chemet is considered by the leading musical critics of the day to be the world's greatest woman violinist. Her present tour of the Far East appears to have given great pleasure to lovers of violin music, and accordingly enthusiasts here should not lose sight of the fact that Mme. Chemet will give her only recital here at the King's Theatre on Friday evening. The programme to be rendered by the celebrated artiste is as follows:

Concerto in A Minor Vivaldi
Concerto in F Minor Ed. Lalo
Poeme Chausson
Slavonic Dance Dvorak-Kreisler
Pole Moon Knight-Logan-Kreisler
Dancing Doll Poldini-Kreisler
Miramar Turina-Chemet

FISHING PARTY OVERDUE

FEARS WHICH WERE UNFOUNDED

Considerable anxiety was caused to the family of a local sportsman who went out fishing on Saturday with a party of friends and did not return home at the hour expected by his relatives.

The report was made to the police by Mrs. E. C. Wong, the wife of Mr. E. C. Wong, of 23, Cumberland Road, Kowloon Tong. It was stated that Mr. Wong and a party of four friends went to Aberdeen to fish on Saturday afternoon but up to the time of making the report on Saturday evening nothing had been heard of them.

The party, however, returned some little time after the report had been made to the police.

MOTOR CARS IN COLLISION

CASTLE PEAK ROAD INCIDENT

Whilst driving his motor car behind another vehicle on the Castle Peak Road yesterday afternoon, Yee Tung-chuen, of 197, Nam Chang Street, collided with the front car when it suddenly stopped as the gates of the railway crossing were being lowered.

Mr. Sai-yuen, Police Interpreter at the Shamshui Police Station, who was a passenger in the rear car, struck his head against the wind screen and received a cut over the right eye. He was taken to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment, but the injury was not of a serious nature.

STORM AND FLOOD.

BANKS OF RESERVOIR IN MIKIMACHI BURST

Tokyo, July 2. Thirty people are missing and believed to be drowned as a result of the banks of a reservoir at Mikimachi (Myoko Prefecture) bursting, after heavy rains. A large number of houses were swept away.

Storms are reported to have worked havoc, and serious floods have occurred in various parts of the country.—Reuter.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN S. N. PETROFF

GOVERNMENT DIVER SUCCUMBS

We much regret having to record the death of Captain Serge Nicolas Petroff, Government diver, which occurred at the Kowloon Hospital this morning.

The deceased, who was 51 years of age, entered hospital on Friday suffering from appendicitis. Peritonitis supervened, and he passed away this morning.

The late Captain Petroff, who was a naturalised Briton, joined the Government service in 1928, and he will be particularly remembered in connexion with the laying of the pipe-line across the harbour, which work was undertaken under his direction. He was greatly liked by all who knew him, and much sympathy will be felt for the widow.

The funeral takes place this evening, passing the Monument at 5.30 p.m.

Capt. Petroff did a great deal of collecting for the Biological Department of the University, and for the local aquarium while it was in existence. His opportunities while exploring the seabed in his diving suit were turned to good account on a number of occasions, so that curious underwater creatures and marine growths, some of which had never been recorded from this locality previously, were brought to light by him, and his valuable assistance is acknowledged in the recently-issued annual report of the Hongkong University.

STAND BY DE VALERA.

It is understood on the highest authority that the Irish Labour Party has decided to stand by de Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans.

Mr. Norton appears to have adopted a belligerent attitude towards the British Government tariff proposals, and is reported to have urged that if Britain wished to adopt a policy of reprisals, the Irish people must organise and meet the situation.

Mr. Norton further pointed out that the balance of Anglo-Irish trade was in Ireland's favour.

TO-MORROW'S DEBATE.

To-morrow's House of Commons debate will centre round the motion, to be proposed by Mr. J. H. Thomas, that special duties, not exceeding 100 per cent. ad valorem, may be imposed on articles to be specified, which are imported from the Irish Free State to Britain, direct or through other countries.

The proposed duties will be imposed in addition to those existing at present, and are in consequence of the Free State's non-payment of the land annuities instalment.

FLOOD RELIEF

3,000 MILES OF DYKES CONSTRUCTED

Shanghai, July 3. Sir John Hope Simpson, after the successful completion of his work as Director General of the Chinese National Flood Relief Commission, has embarked with his wife aboard the Empress of Japan.

Interviewed by Reuter, Sir John described the completion of 3,000 miles of dykes by a colossal labour force of 1,400,000 men. Paying tribute to the devotion of thousands of voluntary Chinese workers, he added: "It is impossible to believe that there is no hope for the future of China when such devoted service can be commanded on such a huge scale."—Reuter.

WILL G.P.O. RELENT?

A MORNING TEA DEPUTATION

The storm in the Post Office teacup is not yet over.

When last month the Post Office banned the telephone girls' morning cup of tea it was claimed on behalf of the girls that a break before noon for refreshment was necessary for health.

The Post Office had decided that, except in special circumstances, casual reliefs outside the authorised meal period were not to be allowed for the purpose of light refreshments.

Casual reliefs enabling the girls to have a cup of tea had hitherto been a matter of course. After three or four hours work at a busy board a cup of tea, said the girls, "worked wonders."

Intense Feeling.

The tea ban was followed by a request from the Union of Post Office Workers that a deputation to protest against the restrictions of the reliefs should be heard.

A resolution sent to the Postmaster-General from a mass meeting of telephonists declared "that the lack of consideration to the physical needs of the staff is detrimental to the interest of the service to the public, injurious to the health of the staff, and not in accord with modern practices in outside employment."

A telegram of protest to the Postmaster-General was also sent from the meeting.

It is stated that the carrying out of the new instructions aroused intense feeling among the staff.

P.M.G.'s "No".

The Postmaster-General, however, replied that the granting of casual reliefs for refreshment purposes became "excessive," and that in some cases the amount of casual relief allowed was so liberal as to affect detrimentally the service rendered to the public.

He added that he could not see his way to the withdrawal of the notice.

It was after this that a letter was sent to the Union agreeing to receive a deputation to discuss the whole matter. The deputation will include four women, Miss Flanagan, Miss House, Miss Pearce, and Miss Treman.

ELECTRIC FISH

'WORKS' THAT GENERATE 300 VOLTS

Paris, June 12. The Musee Permanent des Colonies at Paris has just received a consignment of six boarders from the tropical regions of South America in the shape of six fish called "Gymnotus" or, to give them their scientific appellation, "Electrophorus Gymnoticus electricus."

The fish, black in colour on the back and sides, with orange-red spots under the head and belly, is like a big eel. The interesting part about it is that it carries a real electric works, so to speak.

While its essential organs occupy only about one-fifth of the body, the other four-fifths are occupied by its electric organs, these consisting of muscular tissues modified and transformed by a series of accumulators of from five to eight thousand elements—the most powerful animals, being capable of discharging a current of 300 volts.

One of the professors of the Museum stated that so powerful is the discharge of these fish that successful experiments were made in lighting electric lamps from the discharge of the "Gymnotus."

A live fish was thrown into the aquarium—for the "Gymnotus" only eat fresh fish—the tail of the former touching a eel for the fraction of a second, killing it instantly with the electrical discharge. One of the peculiarities of these fish is that they can only live in water warmed to 27 degrees.

They are proving a great attraction to visitors and scientists at the aquarium.

YANGTZE FLOODS

WUHAN CITIES ALARMED AT RISE OF RIVER

Nanking, July 2. Hankow, Wuchang, Hanyang and other Yangtze cities are becoming nervous as the river continues to rise. The depth of the water at Hankow is now 42 feet, a little more than ten feet below last year's peak, and there are indications that the rise will continue.

The water is now near the Bund level, but it is hoped that the defences built there will be able to hold.

The populace are also anxiously watching the defences which were built since last year's disastrous floods.—Reuter.

ART TREASURES OF INDIA

2,000-YEAR-OLD PICTURE DISCOVERED

Hyderabad (Deccan), June 12. A scene depicting some girls enjoying a bath near a beautiful grove, in which the figures are delineated with much vivacity and technical skill, is among a number of frescoes nearly two thousand years old just discovered in the famous Ajanta caves, Hyderabad.

Hitherto concealed beneath a thick coat of dirt, smoke, and varnish, these interesting examples of Oriental art, dating back to the second century A.D., have been discovered by workers employed by the State Archaeological Department.

Operations to preserve the Ajanta frescoes were started, under the supervision of two Italian experts, in 1920. Since then work has been steadily proceeding and is now in charge of a party of Indian artists.

Scientific advice from all parts of the world has been received and used by the restorers in connexion with the work of cleaning and preserving these ancient and unique treasures of Eastern art. Their labours have now brought them the additional reward of fresh discoveries.

In the cave a new fresco, dating from the fifth century A.D., shows an incarnation of Buddha in the form of an elephant offering himself as a prey to hunters to appease their hunger.

There are several other episodes in the story, all expressing the Buddhist doctrine of Renunciation. In one scene Buddha is shown throwing himself from a precipice and in another, pieces of his body are being roasted on a fire.

Apart from the finding of the frescoes, several objects, which were supposed by some recent writers to have been irrevocably lost, have been found intact under a thick daub of varnish.—Reuter.

HUSBANDS AND WIVES

BACHELOR JUDGE'S DICTA

If a man breaks a promise of marriage can he demand the ring back from the girl?

Answers to these, and many other equally provocative questions, are given in the judgments of Mr. Justice McCardie, collected and edited by Mr. Albert Crew, barrister, in "The Judicial Wisdom of Mr. Justice McCardie" (Ivor Nicholson and Watson, Ltd., 7s. 6d.) just published.

Here are some of Mr. Justice McCardie's epigrams and dicta:

On Women's Dress:

The dress of woman has ever been the mystery, and sometimes the calamity, of the ages. In matters of dress women often remain children to the end.

I am willing to recognise the tonic properties of an occasional new costume.

Too many women are slaves to fashion and too many men are the slaves of women.

On Husbands:

A husband is not to be exposed to ruin by the extravagance of a wife. The position of married women in status and property has improved; the husband's burden has not been altered.

Apparently the law still is that a very poor husband is legally bound to feed and dress a very rich wife.

Mr. Justice McCardie's advice to husbands is to give their wives a fixed dress allowance in proportion to their salary and to see that it is not exceeded—but then, Mr. Justice McCardie is a bachelor!

Vain Rally

How Britain Lost
Wightman Cup

A LAST THRILL

BRITAIN'S vain effort to snatch a sensational victory in the Wightman Cup been described by Frank Poxon, the well-known sports writer, in the course of which he writes:

It is pointless to discuss the might-have-been, but one cannot help reflecting that we ought to have won one match on the Friday and then the Cup would have been ours.

In the first match on the Saturday Mrs. Wills-Moody beat Miss Dorothy Round at 6-2, 6-3 and I thought the loser played really good lawn tennis. Miss Round was up against a rival who was right at the peak of her form, especially in the last 20 minutes of the match.

SPEED AND CONTROL.

During this period Mrs. Moody hit the ball as hard as she has ever hit it in her life, and yet her control was perfect. There was the "ping" of ball on racket which always indicates really hard hitting. Miss Round fought back most pluckily, but she was more convincing in a long rally than in a short one. She was out to win a point after working very hard for it and then, a few seconds later, she would throw away a cheap point to neutralise her previous effort. Also Miss Round took rather too late a ball, but, these faults apart, she was definitely good. The trouble was that Mrs. Moody was better, and really that is about all one can say.

Then came the first of Great Britain's overdue victories. Mrs. Fearnley-Whittingstall defeating Miss Helen Jacobs at 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

VICTORY WELL EARNED.

It was a thoroughly well-merited win, for, on the full run of the match, Mrs. Whittingstall proved herself to be the superior player. She was as stylish as ever and she made fewer mistakes than usual. Miss Jacobs was hardly keyed up to the pitch she attained in the previous day against Miss Round and it may have been that she could not forget the fact that the Wightman Cup had already been won. Her game just lacked "steel": even so, every credit must go to the winner for a notable achievement.

Mrs. King (Miss Mudford) beat Mrs. Harper 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. The scores reflect the nature of the play; it took Mrs. King some time to settle down, but when she did so she always called the tune, her fine forehand drive being a very formidable factor. Mrs. Harper was not really impressive as a singles player; she had far too many loose shots.

THE FINAL THRILL.

Then came the spectacular tit-bit of the afternoon when Miss Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Fearnley-Whittingstall beat Mrs. Wills-Moody and Miss Sarah Paley at 6-3, 1-6, 10-8. This was a really sparkling affair, much to the liking of the big crowd; there was really not a dull moment from first to last. I thought Betty Nuthall was just about the best player of the four, and she and Mrs. Whittingstall were a much better "team" than the American pair. Mrs. Moody, as usual, was not so convincing in doubles as she is in singles, and the understanding between her and Miss Paley was by no means perfect.

In the final set the games went from one all to eight all, with the English pair always leading by the odd game, and then Great Britain won the next two games for set and match. Well played both!

The United States have now won the Wightman Cup six times and Great Britain four times.

ROWING AT HENLEY.

GERMAN WINS THE DIAMOND SCULLS

London, July 2.
As was expected, the chief challenge for the Diamond Sculls at Henley came from the German entrants, of whom H. Buhtz was the chief contender. He rowed No. 1 last year in the Berlingers River Club's eight and was reputed to be stronger than any German sculler who has competed at Henley since the war.

He fully lived up to his reputation and won the final from Boetzel, a compatriot.

Buhtz beat F. Stephen of the London Rowing Club in 10 minutes, 2 seconds while Boetzel beat D. Guye, also of the London Rowing Club, by one length in 9 minutes 20 seconds.

"OLD 'UNS"
STILL GOING STRONGNO CHANCE YET
FOR BRITAIN'S
CRICKET YOUTH

While youth has had every encouragement from the cricket Selection Committee with a view to inclusion in the next team for Australia, one cannot overlook for a moment the wonderful performance of our stars who are over 40 years of age.

Jack Hobbs (49) has had a wonderful season, and hardly ever goes to the wicket without getting 50 or more. In view of the great difficulty in finding a new partner to open the innings with Sutcliffe, the question readily arises "What about Hobbs after all?"

Frank Woolley (45) has been in superb form recently, and he is the one man whom the Australians have feared in the post-war Test matches.

Jack Hearne (41) is another whose style is ideally suited for Australia. But he, unfortunately, does not enjoy good health.

Patay Hendren's ability and activity make me believe he is still in the twenties instead of 43. There is George Garry (39), who made the trip with Chapman's 1928-29, and last year bowled, I believe, 1,300 overs with great success.

There is no question of any of these players getting older; they seem to get younger. Percy Holmes (44) knows Sutcliffe's running better than the wicket better than most, with the exception of Jack Hobbs.

Two other veterans who have been very much in the public eye recently have been Freeman (43), of Kent, and Parker (47), of Gloucestershire.

I wonder sometimes where the young men are coming from to take the places of our old and tried warriors.

LAWN BOWLS

CIVIL SERVICE LOSE

Civil Service, who started the season so well, again suffered defeat on Saturday, when they went down to the Craignower, Craignower, on the other hand, continue in winning vein.

Recreio v. Civil Service.

The Club de Recreio provided the surprise of the day by beating the Civil Service by six shots at King's Park. Scores: C. A. Lopes, F. X. Silva and C. G. Silva (Recreio), lost to C. Simmonds, J. S. Denkin, F. Jones and A. W. Grimmer 19-24. L. Xavier, C. Roberts, M. Souza and R. F. Luz (Recreio) beat S. Randle, J. J. Gregory, J. S. Oswick and R. P. Phillips 20-19.

CHARITY BOXING SENSATION

AMATEUR FIGHTS
CARNERA THEN
SUSPENDED"AN OUTRAGE"
SAYS HARRY
PRESTON

A sensation followed Mr. Harry Preston's annual charity boxing tournament at Brighton last month.

Carnera who fought a round with five opponents, gave his services free of charge on behalf of local hospitals for which the tournament was organised.

One of his one-round opponents was Captain Ernest V. Chandler, former amateur heavyweight champion of the world.

As a result of going into the ring with Carnera, Captain Chandler has been automatically suspended by the Amateur Boxing Association.

ASSOCIATION'S WARNING.

Captain Chandler, who made an excellent showing against the Italian giant, said after the tournament:

"When I was asked by Mr. Harry Preston about a month ago to box a round with Carnera on behalf of the hospitals, I gladly agreed."

"At similar tournaments in the past I have done the same thing in opposition to Jack Dempsey and Tom Heeney, but I have never heard anything from the Amateur Boxing Association."

"Much to my surprise, I received a letter from the secretary of the Association stating it had been brought to their notice that I was down to appear at this tournament against Carnera, and that if I appeared I should be automatically suspended, as it was not an authorised tournament."

"By a curious chance my name was left off the programme tonight."

"I am prepared to suffer any penalty I have incurred. I was merely anxious to aid the local hospitals."

"ONLY SPORTSMEN," SAYS CARNERA.

Carnera was very brief on the subject, but very much to the point.

"On an occasion like to-night's," he said, "there is no such thing as an amateur or a professional boxer."

"We are only sportsmen, trying to do our utmost to help those who are temporarily unable to help themselves."

Mr. Harry Preston said: "The whole thing is an outrage."

Mr. Jeff Dickson said: "It appears clear that the Amateur Boxing Association needs some new officials."

Captain Chandler fought as an amateur heavy-weight—in this country and in America. He was never knocked out, but retired.

Brighton Dome was packed for the tournament, which was in aid of the Royal Sussex County Hospital for Sick Children.

£1,200 FOR HOSPITALS.

Mr. Preston announced that the hospitals will benefit to the extent of £1,200.

The chief event was Carnera's appearance for one round each against the five opponents, including Captain Chandler. The others he fought were Don McCordindale, Walter Neusel, John Pettifer and Jack O'Malley, heavyweight champion of Australia.

None was good enough for Carnera, and the round with McCordindale developed almost into a music hall turn. McCordindale aimed a playful kick at Carnera after a few seconds when the giant let him pound on his body, without apparently producing the slightest effect.

LOVELOCK BREAKS
FIGURES
FOR ¾ OF A MILEGreat Performance at
Stamford Bridge

In the Civil Service sports, at Stamford Bridge, J. E. Lovelock, the New Zealand Oxonian, ran from scratch in a specially-framed handicap, and covered three-quarters of a mile in 3 min. 2 1-5 sec., as against the present officially recognised world's record of 3 min. 2 4-5 sec., accomplished by the late T. P. Conneff in 1895.

J. F. Cornes, another Oxonian, who was also on the scratch mark, led at the first quarter in 56 1-6 sec., and at half a mile in 1 min. 57 1-5 sec. Three hundred yards from home Lovelock passed Cornes and came home with a brilliant burst over the last 80 yards.

Lovelock's time was shown on three watches and the track, on being remeasured, was a foot over the distance. The Frenchman, J. Ladoumègue, however, has done 3 min. 0 3-5 sec., which, if passed, in due course, by the International Federation, would of course remove the claim of a world record.

Lovelock, who has been elected hon. secretary of Oxford University A.C., recently beat the British amateur record for the mile, covering the distance in 4 min. 12 sec., and has also beaten the British record of R. H. Thomas for three-quarters of a mile by 2 4-5 sec.

D. O. Finlay (R.A.F.) gave a splendid exhibition in the 120 yards invitation hurdles race. He made a bad start, but cleared the last six hurdles in faultless style to beat the Oxonian, R. St. G. T. Harper, by a foot in 18 9-sec. Finlay's time is only 1-5 sec. outside Lord Burghley's English native record.

Cambridge "May"
ConcludedPEMBROKE HEAD OF
THE RIVER

If a rowing innovation ever justified itself it was the adding of a fourth division to the Cambridge May Races, which recently concluded. This division of 17 crews produced 27 out of the 75 bumps which were recorded.

No fewer than nine crews won their own. Pembroke claim this distinction as they finished "Head of the River" for the third time since the races were instituted in 1827, and for the first time for two years in succession.

Eight crews made a bump each night. They were Magdalen 1, Selwyn 2, First Trinity 3, Jesus 3, St. Catharine's 3 and 4, Queens' 3 and Clare 3.

Taking all their boats, it was a particularly good year for Jesus and St. Catharine's. The former, though not one of the biggest colleges, had six boats on the river, which was more than any other college.

The "Head of the River" crew was:

Pembroke 1.—N. J. Hewlings (bow), 11-9; 2. L. Luxton, 12-5; 3. H. Ballantyne, 11-4; 4. M. G. Pascalis, 12-3; 5. D. H. E. McCowen, 12-8; 6. G. W. Cook, 12-5; 7. W. A. T. Sambell, 12-0; 8. J. R. F. Best (str), 11-3; 9. M. Ranking (cox), 7-0.

On a recent Saturday bumps were made by:

Fourth Division.—Queens' 3, St. Catharine's 3, Downing 2, St. Catharine's 4 and Lady Margaret 5.

Third Division.—Fitzwilliam House, Pembroke 3, Trinity Hall 3, Christ's 3, Corpus Christ 2, Jesus 4.

Second Division.—St. Catharine's 1, Selwyn 2, Jesus 3, Magdalen 1, First Trinity 3.

First Division.—Selwyn 1, Jesus 2, First Trinity 3.

Club, beat A. A. Xavier, F. X. Soares, E. M. Remedios and R. A. Bato 32-0.

E. S. Abraham, J. W. C. Bonnar, A. T. Hamilton and W. Macfarlane (Yacht Club) beat M. Carvalho, J. B. Bato, H. Rozario and C. H. Bato 21-13.

A. Stevenson, L. S. Greenhill, J. Ross and A. Macfarlane (Yacht Club) lost to F. Prata, J. Ranzoni, J. G. Ozoilo and A. H. Bato 23-30.

Kowloon C.C. v. Kowloon B.G.C. The holders of the honours suffered another defeat when they lost to the Kowloon C.C. on the latter's green by 21 shots. Scores:

J. S. Dinnen, F. E. Lawrence, L. J. Blackburn and F. G. Heridge (Kowloon C.C.) beat W. Venables, C. Labrum, V. Petherick and F. L. Rapley 32-11.

W. J. Edwards, A. J. Kew, T. W. Carr and L. Jack (Kowloon C.C.) lost to G. H. Sheriff, J. S. Logan, W. E. Hale and W. S. Drake 18-34.

AT WIMBLEDON

BRITONS BEATEN IN BOTH FINALS

London, July 2.
Ellsworth Vines played brilliant tennis in the final of the Wimbledon championship and dominated the play throughout in his encounter with H. W. Austin, the British representative, who was expected in many quarters to secure the title for Britain after 23 years. Vines proved his superiority in no mean fashion, winning in straight sets and conceding only six games.

Britain received yet another shock in the Open Doubles which went to France through her representatives, J. Borotra and J. Brugnon, who beat F. J. Perry and G. P. Hughes in a gruelling match over the full distance. The Frenchmen secured the first set to love, but lost the next two. The last two sets went to twelve games before the Frenchmen won their first title as a pair, although both have shared the honours of previous tournaments with other partners.

The full results of the semi-final and final rounds are given below:

LOAN DEPARTMENT.

London, 1st July, 1932.

HOW BLIND HE IS!

... Yet he is losing 1/3rd of his INVESTMENT INCOME

ECONOMIZING and saving every month—Yes, but for what? To place your earnings in an investment that LOSES one-third of the income that should be yours? Study your investments immediately, learn their true value, their real earning power and security. Do you get the fullest possible return from your investment dollars, the greatest earning power consistent with safe investment? Or do you suffer from that financial astigmatism which blinds you to the full earning power of your money? Do you still believe that with the large earnings now possible that you should be satisfied with 6%?

The record of this Company—a record of success extending over a period of years—shows that we can pay 8% interest on our debentures, guaranteed by a generous margin of safety, and make in addition a satisfactory profit for our shareholders. The money secured from the sale of our debentures is not used for speculative purchases of land but is loaned on good real estate mortgages. We have in the past loaned more than 100 millions of taels in the form of mortgages on Shanghai real estate and every cent of capital and interest has been repaid.

Where such safe and satisfactory investments are possible, we consider that it is only fair that we should pass on to the investing public its just share of the profits which we do by paying interest of 8% on our debentures.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

A rifle shooting contest between the Volunteers and the Royal Air Force took place at the Park range yesterday morning, and was won by the Air Force by 498 points against 475 points, giving an average of 62 and 59 points per individual respectively.

The teams were composed of ten men each, eight to count, and firing took place at ranges of 200, 400 and 500 yards. The points for scoring were four for a "bull", three, two and one. Seven rounds were fired at each range, making the possible 28 points.

TERMS TO CHINA

MANCHUKUO OFFER TO TAKE CUSTOMS.

Tokyo, July 2.
A message from Changchun states that the Manchukuo Government has decided to approach Japan with a counter-proposal regarding the settlement of the Customs question.

1. China is to acknowledge the transfer to the Manchukuo of all the Manchurian Customs, except at Dairen.

2. If the jurisdiction of the Dairen Customs is handed over to the Manchukuo the revenues, minus foreign loans security, will go to Nanking.

3. If not, then all revenues will go to the Manchukuo, which will not be responsible for the mortgaged portion.

4. After the redemption of all foreign debts, the jurisdiction of all the Manchurian Customs will be transferred to the Manchukuo.

The Raid on Antung.

Shanghai, July 2.
How a Japanese adviser, with several alleged Manchukuo police in plain clothes, entered the house of the Commissioner of Customs at Antung, in the S.M.R. zone, on June 30, and forced him at the pistol point to hand over the archives, is told in a telegram from the Commissioner received by Sir Frederick Maze to-day.

The telegram adds: "I protested, saying that such an extraordinary action might cause serious international complications. The Japanese adviser said he had his orders and was prepared to ignore the Japanese Consul and all other interests involved. Upon my sending the British Examiner to the Japanese Consul next door for protection, only the Vice-Consul was present and he stated he had no authority to act."

The staff is still on duty in the railway zone, but three have been arrested by the Manchukuo police. As the latter now have full run of the railway zone, I have given the Consul written notice that I must withdraw if he cannot guarantee their safety. All the Japanese, except Mr. Watanabe, have handed me their resignations. The Manchukuo action here strongly indicates that they here accept no compromise. The staff is in a panic, adding greatly to the difficulties of the situation."

A second telegram received by Sir Frederick Maze says that as the Japanese adviser has not permitted him to carry on the Customs work, even temporarily, he has withdrawn his staff. He adds, however, that he has been assured by the Consul that there will be no repetition in the railway zone of further such illegal acts on the part of the Manchukuo.

Plan Rejected.

Shanghai, July 3.
It has been learned that Messrs. Wang Ching-wei, T. V. Soong, Lo Wen-kan and Quo Tai-chi had a long conference last night when they discussed the Japanese note embodying the compromise plan for a solution of the Manchurian Customs imbroglio.

It was decided to reject the plan. Mr. Wang Ching-wei and Lo Wen-kan returning to Nanking on the night express.

A large crowd of Chinese and foreigners, including Mr. Lo Wen-kan, Sir John Brennan and Mr. Cunningham, gathered at the Japanese Consulate last night when they discussed the Japanese note embodying the compromise plan for a solution of the Manchurian Customs imbroglio.

It was decided to reject the plan. Mr. Wang Ching-wei and Lo Wen-kan returning to Nanking on the night express.

Raising Revenue.

Interviewed before he left for Nanking, Mr. Wang Ching-wei declared the Government intended to convene shortly a conference of the provincial Governors and the Commissioners of Finance to discuss the amelioration of the economic situation. He said the only means of alleviating the present conditions would be to devise means to raise further revenue, and consequently the Government was considering the re-adjustment of the farm tax.

He added that Marshal Chang Hsueh-ling was expected to go to Kuling shortly to confer with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, in regard to the "restoration of Manchuria."

her great age. Pierson was 35 and looked 40. Jack Waring arrived as they were talking. He looked at the girl curiously.

"It must be great to be 20," he said. There was a real note of envy in his voice. "What wouldn't I give to be back there, with what I know now! I wouldn't make the same mistakes."

"I've made a lot already," Susan told him almost gayly. "But from this day forward I'm determined not to make any more." She felt happy. She would work hard, she would study, she would read good books and make something of herself. Look at all the women who were great and useful in the world!

It was in this mood of high endeavour that Susan answered her employer's buzzer. Heath seldom rang, preferring to come to the door and summon her.

She took her notebook, some freshly sharpened pencils, and presented herself. Tall and graceful in her old black wool frock, with its sheer white collar falling away from her young throat, Susan made a charming picture.

"Sit down," Ernest Heath told her. His voice sounded strange, almost harsh. Susan obeyed without taking her eyes from his dark, aristocratic face. There was something in his expression that vaguely alarmed her.

"Miss Carey," Heath went on, clearing his throat. "I've something unpleasant to tell you. Mrs. Heath is threatening to sue you for alienation of my affections."

Susan stared, a child's unwinking stare. The horror of what he had said had not fully penetrated her consciousness. She faltered "But that's absurd! She can't do that."

"Nevertheless," said Heath grimly, "she's going to."

The body of Mr. T. A. Henry, who disappeared while swimming at Laichikok Beach on Friday afternoon, was recovered yesterday about 9.30 p.m. It was noticed by an Indian watchman, and found under a rock about 50 yards from the Standard Oil Company's wharf, where it had apparently been washed by the tide.

Tsung-chien, arrived in Shanghai to-day. It is reported that the purpose of their visit is to discuss with Mr. T. V. Soong the question of the Manchurian Customs, as well as to bid farewell to Mr. Quo Tai-chi, who is sailing for London to-morrow on the Empress of Japan, together with General Chiang Tso-pin, who is leaving for Tokyo on the 6th inst. to resume his post of Minister.

Chiang Tso-pin emphatically denies the report that he is taking to Tokyo a formula for the solution of the Sino-Japanese dispute. He says he must first sound out the attitude of the Japanese Government before any step can be taken.

REPARATIONS PLAN

CREDITORS REACH AGREEMENT ON SCHEME

Lausanne, July 3.
A Franco-British agreement has been reached on all points. Firm confidence that after all the Conference is going to be a huge success pervades all the creditor delegations. As the result of the agreement regarding inter-creditor difficulties, it is regarded as practically certain that the German delegates will accept thereby opening the door to a big world conference.—Reuter.

Rejection Expected.

Lausanne, July 3.
Herr Von Papen and Herr Von Neurath will give Mr. Ramsay MacDonald at 9 a.m. on Sunday the German answer, which will almost certainly reject the allied proposal for the payment of 4,200,000,000 Reichsmarks.—Reuter.

Italy Pleased Also.

Rome, July 3.
Notwithstanding the fact that Italy will stand to lose over £2,000,000 annually in the difference between Reparations and War Debts, and unlike Britain and America has no frozen credits in Germany which may be thawed by a settlement at Lausanne, today's tentative agreement in principle is warmly welcomed.—Reuter's Special Service.

German Objections.

Lausanne, July 3.
Mr. MacDonald has defied the doctor's orders for he embarked early today on an important series of interviews and negotiations. Signor Grandi was the first visitor at 8.30 a.m. and was followed by Herr von Papen and Herr Neurath and then a brief meeting of the five members of the Bureau, which adjourned until 5 p.m.

As anticipated, the Germans are objecting to the figures of the payment and certain conditions and it is expected that the process of bargaining will last for 24 hours. There are no fundamental questions at issue. Mr. MacDonald announced he was prepared to stay a day or two longer, until Tuesday if necessary to conclude the work of the conference.—Reuter.

The Fateful Day.

Lausanne, July 2.
To-morrow will be a fateful day for the Conference, when the final proposals by the Five Powers are to be submitted to the German Delegation.

It is understood that the methods regarding the payment of a lump sum have been fixed and a tentative agreement has been reached on the amount of 4,500,000,000 marks.

A formula has also been devised for safeguarding the clause which, it is understood, will avoid any direct mention of the United States.

The question of the venue for the World Economic Conference will also be discussed and it is generally favoured in the proposals that it be held under the auspices of the League, similar to the Disarmament Conference. This would rule out London as the seat of the meeting, but it is feared that this proposal will also compromise the prospect of the

MOTOR MISHAPS.

CAR COLLIDES WITH BICYCLE

A minor motor mishap in which Mrs. L. A. Osmund of 111, Boundary Street, Kowloon Tong, was involved was reported to the Police on Saturday, when it was stated that a motor car which she was driving collided with a bicycle.

Mrs. Osmund who holds a learner's licence, was driving a motor car in Waterloo Road on Saturday night and at the junction of Peace Avenue she collided with a bicycle which was being ridden by an unknown Chinese male. The bicycle was damaged but no person was injured.

Girl Knocked Down.

Mr. R. G. Lee, of 1, Morton Terrace, notified the Police on Friday night that whilst he was driving a motor cycle in Queen's Road, East, at about 8.30 p.m. he knocked down a Chinese girl near Arsenal Street. The girl was taken to the Government Civil Hospital but not detained.

A ten-year-old Chinese boy, Ho Ming, of 21, Centre Street, was knocked down by a public motor car in Queen's Road, West near Centre Street on Friday, but his injuries were not of a serious nature and his father refused to allow him to go to Hospital.

Whilst driving a public motor car in Upper Albert Road, near Albany, Ip Ngau-chu knocked down a twelve-year-old Chinese boy, So Yat-oi, of 140 Wellington Street, causing bruises to the left leg and body.

United States participation.—Reuter.

Premiers Confer.

Accompanied by M. Germain Martin, M. Herriot, who arrived from Paris this morning, conferred with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Walter Runciman regarding the terms of the plan which includes the prolongation of the moratorium for three years and thereafter until Germany's ability to meet the annuities is determined.

The morning meeting, the results of which Herr Von Neurath and a crowd of eager journalists were waiting to hear, failed to produce a complete agreement, and it is understood that the figure of the German contribution to the European Reconstruction Fund was the stumbling block.

The English and French Premiers will meet again at 4 p.m.

The meeting of the Bureau fixed for 10 a.m. was postponed until 5 p.m.—Reuter.

A Global Payment.

Lausanne, July 2.
According to French sources the balance worked out by the Bureau, not including the German delegates, comprises a single global payment with specific guarantees for the service of interest and a sinking fund.

Bonds will be handed to the Bank of International Settlements, which will determine when they are to be issued and how payments are to be effected.

A special chapter details the arrangements for the working of the common fund, and it is understood that a safeguarding clause is circumvented by a provision which allows money to be utilised in "other directions," whereby the American war debts are presumably camouflaged.—Reuter.

LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

CHINA & JAPAN AGREE TO EXTENSION OF TIME

Geneva, July 2. At a special meeting of the League Assembly held to-day, the Chinese Ambassador, Mr. Yen agreed to an extension of the time limit, but pointed out that delay was dangerous. China was in no way to blame for the delay, under the existing circumstances, and it should be reduced to the absolute minimum.

He hoped that the study of the Manchurian report would be accomplished long before November 1.

"The situation in Manchuria," continued Mr. Yen, "is now particularly grave as the result of the activities of the Manchukuo forces. There can be no peace if it is based upon disrespect for treaties." This declaration was greeted with applause.

Other delegates spoke in a similar strain, though the Spanish representative complained of the delay that had occurred before the Commission got down to its work.

President Lymans, summing up the debate, said he regarded his proposal as having been adopted, and declared that nothing should be done to hamper the Commission's work or enquiries. No situation should be recognised which was in violation of formal treaties.

The text of the Assembly's proposal lays stress upon the exceptional character of the measure and takes note of the fact that both Chinese and Japanese representatives had notified the President of their willingness to agree to the extension of the time limit.

It further states that the extension of time has been limited to that which is absolutely necessary to enable the Commission to complete its work, and is only granted on the understanding that it shall not constitute a precedent.

The Assembly then adjourned until next week; the Japanese delegate having maintained silence throughout the whole session. —Reuter.

DISARMAMENT

JAPAN REJECTS U. S. PROPOSALS

Tokyo, July 2. "Tantamount to the flat rejection of Mr. Hoover's proposals" is the description of a spokesman regarding the instructions of the Foreign Office sent to Mr. Matsudaira, the Japanese Minister to London.

Similar instructions were sent by the Navy Office to the Naval Delegation on June 29 as the Navy declined to consider the proposals even as a basis of discussion, although several minor features were acceptable, according to the spokesman. —Reuter.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, yesterday.

The Golden Text was—"I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me." (Exodus 20; 2, 3.)

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible.—"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." (Deut. 6; 4, 5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.—"The divine Principle of the First Commandment bases the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal. One Infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself,' annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry; whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed." (p. 340).

CHOLERA DEATHS

NO MORE COFFINS LEFT ARE POYANG

Shanghai, July 3. Over 1,000 persons have succumbed from cholera at Poyang, in North Kiangsi, during the past week, according to Chinese reports, which state the supply of coffins is exhausted, while in many instances, whole families have been wiped out.

The epidemic has also broken out at Nanchang and other Kiangsi cities. —Reuter.

THREAT TO EDITOR

BANDIT OBJECTIONS TO ANTILED CAMPAIGN

Harbin, July 3. The Editor of the Japanese-owned Russian newspaper, the Harbin Times, which recently has been denouncing the activities of a gang of kidnappers known as the Black Dragon gang, has received a letter stating that unless no further such items are published, bandits will raid the premises and kill the Editor and the entire staff. Yesterday morning the police raided all the cabarets, restaurants and hotels and carried out wholesale arrests for non-possession of "satisfactory documents" or for being unregistered.

Among those arrested and taken into custody were musicians and others described as "important Kuomintang agents" and also alleged communists. —Reuter.

Scarcity of Food.

Harbin, July 3. Owing to the scarcity of food-stuffs in Aigun and Tielho, the Chambers of Commerce in those two cities have wired here for the immediate despatch of supplies. The bandit situation near Harbin continues serious. The railway employees at the Melitaitze station, five miles west of Harbin, have been warned by Hsian Hsueh, one of the leading bandit chieftains, that they will all be killed unless they pay ransoms varying between 50 and 2,000 dollars.

The situation at Jiamou is now fairly peaceful and as a consequence the refugees who evacuated here have decided to return to their homes. Conditions between Jiamou and Hailun however, are still unsettled, and many of the inhabitants are evacuating. —Reuter's Special.

NOVEL TRIP TO MACAO IN MOTOR SAMPAN

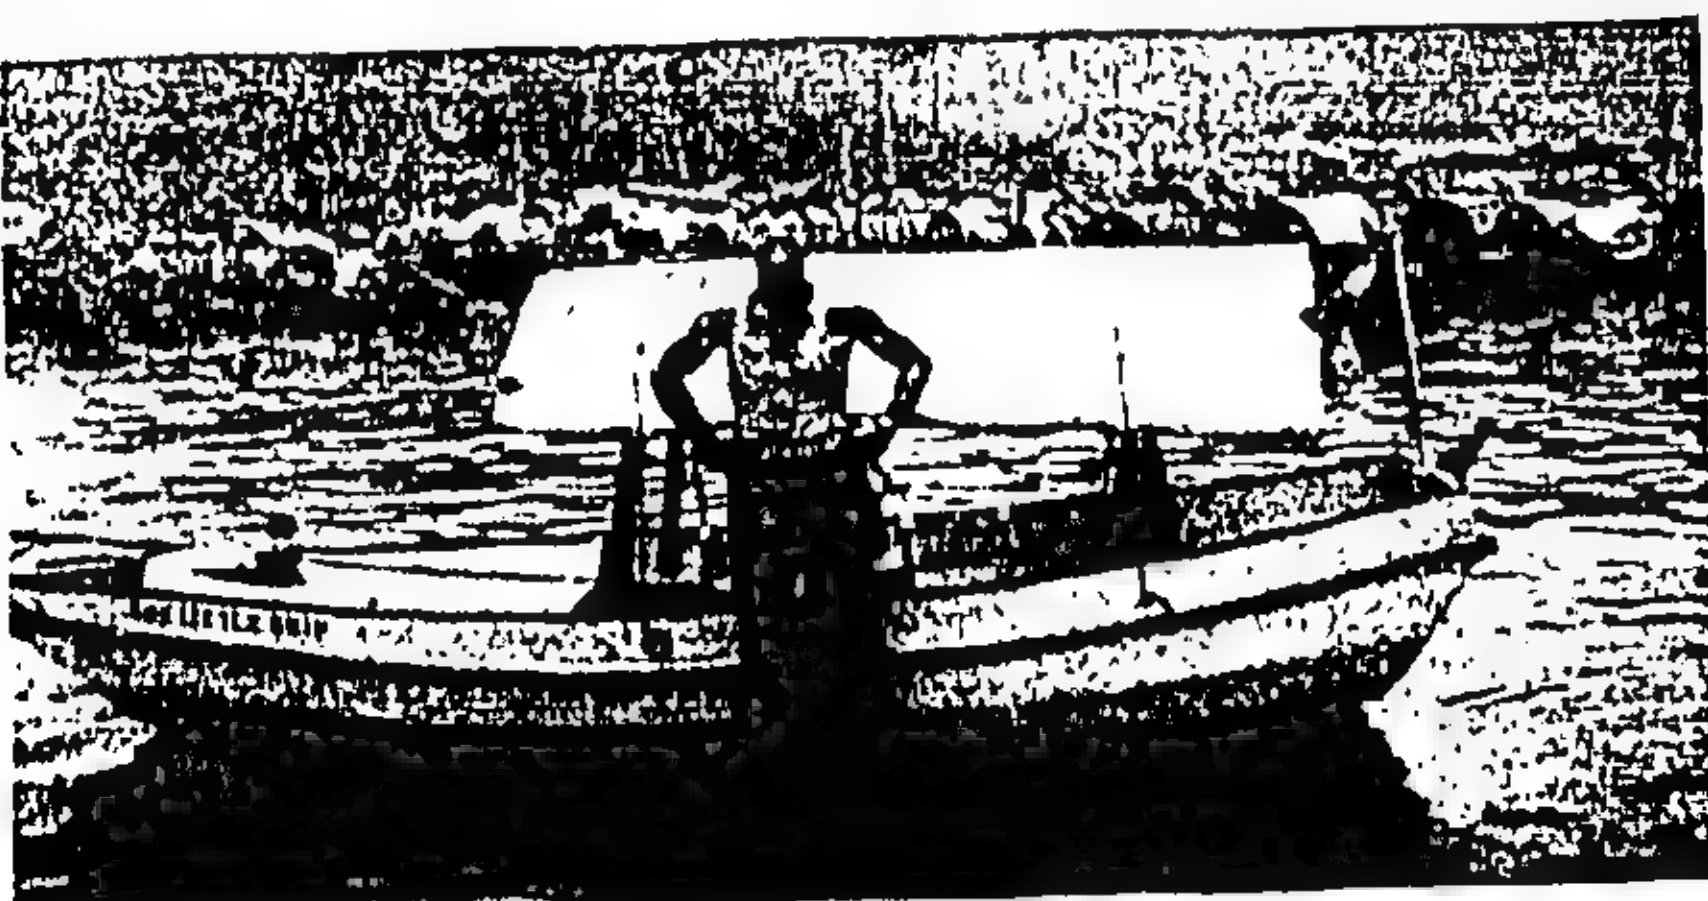

ADVENTURE WITH FIFTEEN-FOOT SEA SNAKE

In an Aberdeen-built sampan, fitted with a 12 h.p. outboard motor, a French resident, accompanied by a German friend, left Hongkong at 1 a.m. on Friday last for Macao. They are back in Hongkong now, but will long remember their trip, the first to be made to Macao in such a craft.

Mr. R. Poinot is the Frenchman who made the trip of which he told the story to a Telegraph reporter to-day. Mr. Poinot is the proprietor of "The Little Ship" in Pedder Street and his boat is appropriately named "The Little Ship."

HUGE SEA SNAKE.

"We left Hongkong at 1 a.m. on

Mr. Poinot is here seen with his motor-powered sampan, in which he made his adventurous trip to Macao.

Friday last," said Mr. Poinot, "and arrived in Macao at 8 a.m. It was a most pleasant seven hours."

"When we were off Cheung Chau, however, we had an amazing experience. I was flashing an electric torch about the boat when a huge snake began to crawl out of the water on to the stern. My friend seized a hammer and, with one hit, sent it floundering back into the water, its head smashed."

"We had a clear view of it swimming about. It was fifteen feet long, if it was an inch."

PROPELLOR TROUBLE.

"The trip from Cheung Chau to Lantau was marvellous. The motor gave the sea the appearance of a sheet of silver. Opposite Lantau our propeller became mixed up in a fishing net extending between two sampans. There was nothing I could do but cut the net.

"I am afraid the Chinese in the sampans were very annoyed. They came towards us as fast as they could, but I got the engine going again and we out-distanced them."

"There is a nasty current between Lantau and Macao, but we reached the Portuguese Colony safely."

"To me, the harbour at Macao seemed lined with stone walls. In one place we appeared to be entirely surrounded. I gave the engine full throttle and we shot over a wall that was an inch above the surface of the water."

DIFFICULT HARBOUR.

"In our hotel at Macao we were confronted by a uniformed official who presented us with a paper 'to be filled in'. I put my own name down as captain, Aberdeen as the port of registration, and under the heading of remarks I wrote 'a good trip but your harbour is difficult to enter'."

"When we examined our boat later, we found that a leak had started—the result of our encounter with the stone wall. This was soon repaired, however, and our trip back to Hongkong, under the most difficult conditions, was without incident though not without

CANCELLATION OF WAR GUILT CLAUSE

WHILE GERMANY IS OBJECTING TO CERTAIN FEATURES OF THE ALLIED SCHEME FOR A FINAL SETTLEMENT OF THE REPARATIONS PROBLEM, IT IS BELIEVED THAT THE COUNTER-DEMANDS BEING PUT FORWARD ARE MORE FOR THE PURPOSE OF BARGAINING THAN ANYTHING ELSE.

Although no settlement has actually been achieved, a solution is thought to be in sight, and, generally speaking, a hopeful atmosphere prevails.

The Allies have proposed, in lieu of reparations, that Germany should pay a sum of four thousand million marks, but the Germans regard this as being too large, their latest demands including one that this figure be reduced by one-half.

Should the proposed bonds be issued, Germany asks for proper safeguards for her markets and credits. At the moment, M. Herriot the Premier of France, is detained in Paris endeavouring to straighten out the Budget tangle, and until he returns to Lausanne no important developments are expected.

Lausanne, July 3.

A settlement of the reparations issue is in sight, but has not yet been reached.

It is understood that the Germans object to three points of the Five-Power Plan, namely:

- (1) The amount of the payment;
- (2) The conditions attaching to the issue of the bonds;
- (3) The camouflaged safeguarding clause.

WAR-GUILT ISSUE.

They also demand the cancellation of that part of the famous war-guilt clause.

The German demands are likely to arouse the most intense opposition, and are possibly only made for bargaining purposes.—Reuter.

THREE DEMANDS.

Lausanne, later.

The German demands, summarised, are as follows:

- (1) The date for the issue of the bonds must be decided by unanimous vote of the Council of the Bank of International Settlements, and not merely by majority vote;

- (2) Proper safeguards must be arranged for German markets and German credit in the event of the bonds being issued;

- (3) The figure of 4,000,000,000 marks demanded by the Powers must be halved.—Reuter.

HERRIOT'S TASK.

Paris, July 3.

M. Herriot is not returning to Lausanne until Wednesday. He is trying to clear up the Budget deadlock between the Government and the Chamber Finance Commission.—Reuter.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

CELEBRATIONS IN HONGKONG

Tonight to His Majesty the King and the President of the United States were honoured.

Among those present at the reception were Capt. Webb (A.D.C.), representing the Officer Administering the Government, Hon. W. T. Southern, (G.C.M.), His Honour Sir Joseph Kemp, Commodore A. H. Walker, Hon. Mr. W. E. L. Shen-ton, Hon. Mr. T. H. King (Acting I.G.P.), Hon. R. H. Kotowall, Hon. Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., members of the American Consulate and community, and others.

RIVER BOAT RUNS GAUNTLET

S.S. ON LEE UNDER HAIL OF FIRE

WOMAN KILLED

Whilst on her way to Hongkong from Kongmoon on Saturday, the s.s. On Lee, flying the British flag, was fired on by farmers along the river bank. In all, some twenty shots were fired, and one of these mortally wounded a Chinese woman passenger, who succumbed after admission to hospital in Kongmoon, whither the steamer returned.

The explanation of the firing is said to be the fear of the farmers that, with the present high state of the river, the wash of passing vessels is liable to endanger their crops.

H. M. S. Moorhen, which was in the vicinity at the time, rendered medical aid to the wounded woman.

WARNING FLAGS.

The On Lee, owned by the Sze Yap S. S. Co., Ltd., of Wing Lok Street, and commanded by Capt. G. A. Elias, left Kongmoon on Saturday afternoon shortly after three o'clock and was closely followed by other Kongmoon-Hongkong vessels including the s.s. Toishan and s.s. Sun Nam Hoi.

As the vessel was passing the Chao Lin district shortly before four o'clock, passengers noticed the hoisting by farmers of red flags warning Kongmoon boats of the possibility of damage being done to the fields by the wash, owing to the high state of the river.

VOLLEY OF SHOTS.

Then, without further warning, several rifle shots were fired from the shore by the farmers. At the time, three steamers were passing the locality. Most of the bullets hit the On Lee, and one, after penetrating one of the cabins, fatally wounded a Chinese woman passenger.

The ship's officers immediately went to the assistance of the woman, when it was discovered that she was in a serious condition. She was travelling with ten members of her family, on her way to Hongkong, and was shot in the abdomen.

MOORHEN'S AID.

H. M. S. Moorhen was following closely at the time and immediately went to the help of the On Lee, in response to a message from the captain. Medical aid was sent from the gunboat, and the On Lee later returned to Kongmoon, the wounded woman being conveyed to the Yan Chai Hospital.

Later, the victim succumbed to her wounds. She was about thirty-five years old and belonged to a wealthy family residing in Kongmoon.

The On Lee resumed her interrupted trip to Hongkong on Saturday.

FOUR KILLED AND 30 WOUNDED IN STREET CLASHES

MURDER, LOOTING AND ARSON

Bombay, July 4.

FOUR were killed and 30 wounded in serious communal riots which broke out to-day, when many areas in Bombay seethed with angry Hindus and Moslems, who not only engaged in pitched battles, but carried out murderous assaults, looted shops and set fire to buildings.

The disturbances have been simmering for some time past, and last week, two persons were killed and ninety injured in a clash between rival religious factions in North Bombay. On that occasion police had to fire four times on the maddened crowds.

TROOPS CALLED OUT.

To-day, British troops were called out owing to the seriousness of the rioting.

The pitched street battles between the Hindus and Moslems developed into murderous assaults, lootings and arson, in the course of which numbers were killed and wounded. The official figures at the moment are given as 4 dead and 30 wounded.

So grave did the position become that a company of the Royal Irish Fusiliers was despatched to the disturbed area.

THE CURFEW AGAIN.

Earlier in the day the police had been forced to disperse the mob by rifle fire.

As a result of the incidents the authorities have re-established the curfew.—Reuter.

LATE EX-KING

MANOEL

Mr. Croucher is a business man, a stockbroker, and he knows quite well that where there is water there is risk, and shipping ventures are no exception. He was quite prepared to take the chance with Douglas Company shares. They still appear to be a good gamble. Why does Mr. Croucher, if it is so, wish the Masters and Officers to make more sacrifices than they have already made?

The Law Society and the Medical Association increased their charges by 50% to compensate for the fall of silver but the Masters and Officers of the Merchant Navy have their pay reduced by ten to twenty per cent.—Yours, etc.,

T. T. LAURENSEN.

GUILD'S REPLY TO SHAREHOLDER'S COMPLAINT.

PAY REDUCTION

The suggestion made by Mr. N. V. Croucher, at the annual meeting of the Douglas Steamship Co., that the floating staff of the Company have not borne the same sacrifices as shareholders, is warmly rebutted in a letter sent to us to-day on behalf of the China Coast Officers' Guild by Capt. T. T. Laurensen, the branch secretary.

Captain Laurensen points out that masters and officers have had their pay reduced, while leave has been temporarily suspended for the past 18 months. He adds, moreover, that leave is an integral part of an officer's pay.

THE LETTER.

The letter is as follows: Sir.—With reference to a statement made by Mr. N. V. Croucher, at the annual meeting of the Douglas Company, he is reported to have said:—

"Our entire capital is only six lakhs and we are spending it all on the Officers and crews. All leave, etc. should be suspended straight away. I don't think the floating staff have borne the sacrifices the shareholders have during this depression."

According to the annual report, the Company have made a profit on working of $82,639.94, with three vessels, after paying for the very expensive loadline surveys for each of these ships.

We wonder what Mr. Croucher expects, in this time of world-wide depression?

PAY REDUCED.

The gentleman referred to is apparently not aware that the Masters and Officers of both departments have had their pay reduced to a 1/6 dollar since last April, 1931, and that leave pay has been temporarily suspended for the last eighteen months.

It is ridiculous of Mr. Croucher to say that the entire capital of the Company is being spent on "the Officers and crews" in spite of the fact that a profit has been made during the year of $82,639.94, with three steamers.

Then the same gentleman goes on to say—"All leave etc. should be suspended right away. I do not think the floating staff have borne the sacrifices, the shareholders have during this period of depression."

It appears, that it is not generally known, that leave is an integral part of an officer's pay, and if leave is suspended as Mr. Croucher requires, the officers must as a consequence demand increased pay as compensation.

HEROISM RECALLED.

This shareholder does not think, the floating staff have borne the sacrifices the shareholders have. The spirit of Mr. Kingsley Frank Woodward, late 3rd Officer s.s. Hatching, killed in action by pirates, 8th December, 1929, might answer. "Our sacrifices are without end, from the going down of the sun, to the going down of the sun again and we do not complain."

Mr. Croucher is a business man, a stockbroker, and he knows quite well that where there is water there is risk, and shipping ventures are no exception. He was quite prepared to take the chance with Douglas Company shares. They still appear to be a good gamble. Why does Mr. Croucher, if it is so, wish the Masters and Officers to make more sacrifices than they have already made?

The Law Society and the Medical Association increased their charges by 50% to compensate for the fall of silver but the Masters and Officers of the Merchant Navy have their pay reduced by ten to twenty per cent.—Yours, etc.,

T. T. LAURENSEN.

Picture shows a typical mass meeting of Hindus assembled on the Maidan, Bombay. Gatherings of this kind have been quite common recently, and have been a factor in arousing the feelings of the masses.

NAZIS ONCE AGAIN IN UNIFORMS

"RED" INCIDENT

Munich, July 4.

For the first time for two years, the Nazis were able to hold a demonstration in their uniforms here to-day.

A procession of 15,000 uniformed "Storm Troops" from all parts of Upper Bavaria paraded the streets, marching past Herr Hitler, who took the salute.

Hitler afterwards addressed a great mass meeting at which were gathered 40,000 of his enthusiastic followers.

There were no serious incidents during the demonstrations, although a crowd of a hundred Communists attempted to break up the Nazi procession.

The Bidding.

The contract bidding was South one diamond, West one spade, North three clubs. East passed and South went to three No Trump. North bid four clubs as the three No Trump may simply be a minimum response to his forcing bid, but when South goes to four No Trump to show the spade suit well stopped, North passes.

The Play.

West's opening lead is the queen of spades. Would you discard a small heart from dummy? If so, you will be unable to make your contract. The proper plan is to discard the ace of diamonds from dummy so that you will not be blocked in the dummy later on. The declarer wins the trick with the ace of spades and immediately returns the king of spades, now discarding the king of diamonds from dummy.

The declarer then starts with his queen of diamonds and runs off six straight diamond tricks, West discarding everything but the jack and ten of spades and the ace, ten and nine of hearts. East holds the eight of spades, the queen of hearts and the queen, ten and seven of clubs.

Declarer now plays the deuce of clubs, winning the trick in the dummy with the ace, and then cashes his king of clubs. The opposition win the last three tricks, but by discarding his ace and queen so as to unblock the diamond suit the declarer has made his contract of four No Trump.

MR. E. OLIVEIRA.FUNERAL AT HAPPY VALLEY YESTERDAY

The funeral of Eduardo Oliveira, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. S. Oliveira, of Ashley Road, whose death occurred at the French Hospital on Saturday, took place at the Roman Catholic cemetery, Happy Valley, yesterday, being attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Mr. Oliveira, had been in the employ of the Mercantile Bank for about eight months, and left on account of ill-health. He then took a trip to Manila, but on his return suffered a relapse, and entered the Government Civil Hospital, later going to the French Hospital.

He was very popular in the Portuguese community, and was a member of the Portuguese unit of the Volunteer Defence Corps. His father is chief clerk in the Green Island Cement Company, and he has three brothers, Mano, Marcus and Jose, and two sisters, Lycee and Erina.

Father C. R. Spada officiated at the cemetery yesterday. The grave was covered with a profusion of wreaths, among which were tokens from his sorrowing parents and brothers and sisters. Among those present at the funeral were Messrs. B. Cunha,

EUROPEAN'S LOSS

MR. A. H. POTTS ROBBED OF VALUABLES.

A series of larcenies from Europeans were reported to the Police during the week-end, the largest haul being made at High House, Mount Davis, the residence of Mr. A. H. Potts, from where valuables amounting to over $3,000 were stolen.

A report of the loss was made to the Police on Saturday when it was stated that the valuables were stolen sometime between 2.30 p.m. and 4 p.m. during the absence from the house of Mr. Potts. Some person broke open a locked drawer in a wardrobe in his bed room on the first floor and extracted two diamond rings, two wrist watches, one brooch, one pair of sun glasses and $15 in money.

The total value of the loss was given as $3,000. Mr. Potts has informed the Police that he suspects two Chinese servants who have since absconded.

Hotel Incident.

Miss Lebedev, who occupies room No. 225 at the Repulse Bay Hotel, has informed the Police of the loss of a hand bag which was stated to have been taken from her bed room during the early hours of Friday morning, by some unknown person. However, she suspects a European, whom she saw jump out of her bedroom window.

The hand bag was stolen at about 2 a.m. on Friday morning and was stated by the owner to have been black smooth leather handbag with clasp and fastener. It contained a $5 note and various feminine articles to the total value of $35.

A full description of the European is given, the owner of the handbag reporting that he was tall and of medium build and had dark hair. Besides other details it was stated that the man was wearing an open necked shirt and white trousers.

Other Losses.

A child's tricycle belonging to Mr. Jack, of 6, Essex Crescent, was stolen sometime between noon on Friday and 8.25 p.m. the following night. The value of the tricycle was given as $10.

Miss M. Wallace, a sister of the Military Hospital, Bowen Road, has notified the Police that sometime on Thursday and Friday last some one stole a camera valued at $12 from her quarters at the Hospital.

Whilst travelling between Wanchai Gap and Aberdeen between 5.30 p.m. and 6.45 p.m. on Saturday Mr. L. Yates of 168, the Peak, lost a wallet and $50.

A report was made to the Police by Capt. R. G. Moir, of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, to the effect that on June 27 last his wife lost a gold ear-ring valued at $400 between Kowloon and the Central Theatre.

Information of a burglary at the residence of Dr. B. K. Samy, of 47, Robinson Road, was lodged at Police Headquarters when it was intimated that admission to the house was gained sometime between 3 a.m. and 5 a.m.

The burglar was stated to have climbed through an open window after having ascended to the first floor by a water pipe. Two wrist watches, valued at $30, and $48 in money comprised the haul of the intruder.

they need "SCOTT'S"

SCOTT'S Emulsion brings health and strength at all ages of life. Contented and happy are little ones who are nourished by SCOTT'S Emulsion.

Organized like a rebel army and having a very good time out of the proceedings, World War veterans recently decided to make a row about the bonus. Here they are at St. Louis, after landing there on a commandeered freight train.

MAN HUNTERS

BY MABEL McELLIOTT

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Susan Carey, pretty and 19, is secretary for Ernest Heath, Chicago architect. She lives with her Aunt Jessie on the west side. One of her admirers is Ben Lampman, young musician, who asks her to marry him and is refused. Jack Waring, a man about town who is divorced, takes her driving one night and kisses her. She resolves never to go with him again. Ray Flannery, employed in a neighboring office, gives her some advice on popularity. Susan is in love with Bob Dunbar, handsome young millionaire she met at business school, but she believes he is engaged to Denise Ackroyd, a debutante. Denise asks Susan, Ben and some others to attend a house party. Dunbar appears. He drinks too much and tells Susan she is a flirt. She makes him stop his car and gets out. Ernest Heath happens along and drives her back to the Ackroyds. His wife, who is jealous, warns him against doing it.

CHAPTER XXVI

"Did you have a good time?" Rose asked. It was Sunday afternoon, a grey and lifeless Sunday. "It was all right," Susan said fondly.

"Well, I must say you don't sound enthusiastic!"

Susan said she was sorry. She tried to whip herself into the response Rose wanted. The lace dress had been a great success she assured her.

"How about Ben? Did he like it?"

"Did you come back together?" "I didn't see him this morning," Susan said vaguely. "I got up early and took the nine o'clock train."

Rose gasped. "My dear, what for?"

"Oh, I just wanted to." How could she explain the urge that had sent her rushing back to the city and the safety of the little house? She had not slept the long night through. Phrases of Bob's had kept recurring to her. "Not the sort of girl I thought you were—Denise told me you went with free and easy crowd—you can't always tell about angel faces—"

Of course he had been drinking, but that was no excuse. She saw plainly Denise's purpose in inviting her. She longed only to be away from the big, unfriendly house. Even the note pushed under her door by a servant as Susan packed her bag had not deterred her.

"I'm sorry," the note had said. "I acted the fool last night. Don't remember all I said but hope you will forgive me." It was signed with Bob's initials.

She had not seen Ben again. The house had been silent, almost deserted as Susan slipped down the stairs. There had been a maid dusting the great hall as she passed. She had walked the two miles to the station feeling sick and faint and longing for some coffee. Back in the city she had stopped at a lunch counter in the big terminal and the thick cup of steaming liquid shoved at her by a rascally lad in a starched uniform had put new heart into her. It had given her courage to go home and face Aunt Jessie's many questions.

Tomorrow—Susan wondered about to-morrow. The night before it had seemed the simplest, most natural thing in the world to turn to Ernest Heath. Now she was doubtful. Hadn't she been over-hasty and impulsive? She wondered if Heath would not resent her attitude of the night before. She had been so distraught that at the time there had seemed nothing else to do. Now she was conscious of nervous dread over the prospect of meeting him again. Last night everything had been unreal. Today they had resumed their proper outlines. She was Susan Carey, a working girl, not Susan Carey in a white lace dress, being driven to a party on the north shore.

Heath came in, ill at ease and nervous, scarcely glancing at her. With instincts abnormally sharpened by dread Susan imagined his greeting was unusually cool.

"Good morning, Miss Carey," Her reply was scarcely audible but at least the moment was over. Susan breathed more freely and went about her tasks with an intense, almost fierce concentration. She was grateful to her employer for not referring to the Saturday night's incident. For the first time she began to think of Heath as a man rather than as an employer. His unflinching courtesy, even his coolness and stiffness now seemed virtues. She felt tremendously grateful to him. Outwardly nothing had changed but actually the two were conscious of each other.

Of Bob the girl refused to think. That was finished now. It was a book she had closed, a book that had begun rather charmingly but ended badly. She had written Denise a curt little note telling her nothing of what she really felt. It had cost her something to do that. She had not seen Ben again. The house had been silent, almost deserted as Susan slipped down the few days that even Aunt Jessie was alarmed. Aunt Jessie had tried, even as Rose, to draw Susan out on the subject of the house party. "This gadding around leads to no good," Aunt Jessie scolded. If she had expected to rouse her niece's spirit by this tried and true remark she was disappointed. "I guess may be you're right," Susan had said drearily. "I think I'll go to bed early tonight. I'm terribly tired."

Aunt Jessie had to hide her exasperation. "I declare, I don't know what's got into the girl," she would mutter to herself, swishing the mop around in the big dish pan or sweeping the back porch with energetic fury.

Somewhat Susan managed to get through days at the office. Next week would usher in her birthday. At 20 a birthday should be an event, a celebration. For Susan it seemed neither this year.

When Ben telephoned she told him she was busy. She had not seen him since the eventful night of the house party. Quite unreasonably she blamed Ben in her heart. If he had not been there, she would think, perhaps things might have been different. Susan went to movies with Rose, washed her hair, and darned her stockings with beautiful, invisible stitches. She borrowed books from the library and read them with her mind far away. Everything seemed empty and futile. Some days—the easiest ones—passed in a sort of grey haze when she felt nothing at all. There were other times when the turn of a head, a man's voice calling to another across a restaurant or a phrase leaping at her from the pages of a book awoke her to something like agony.

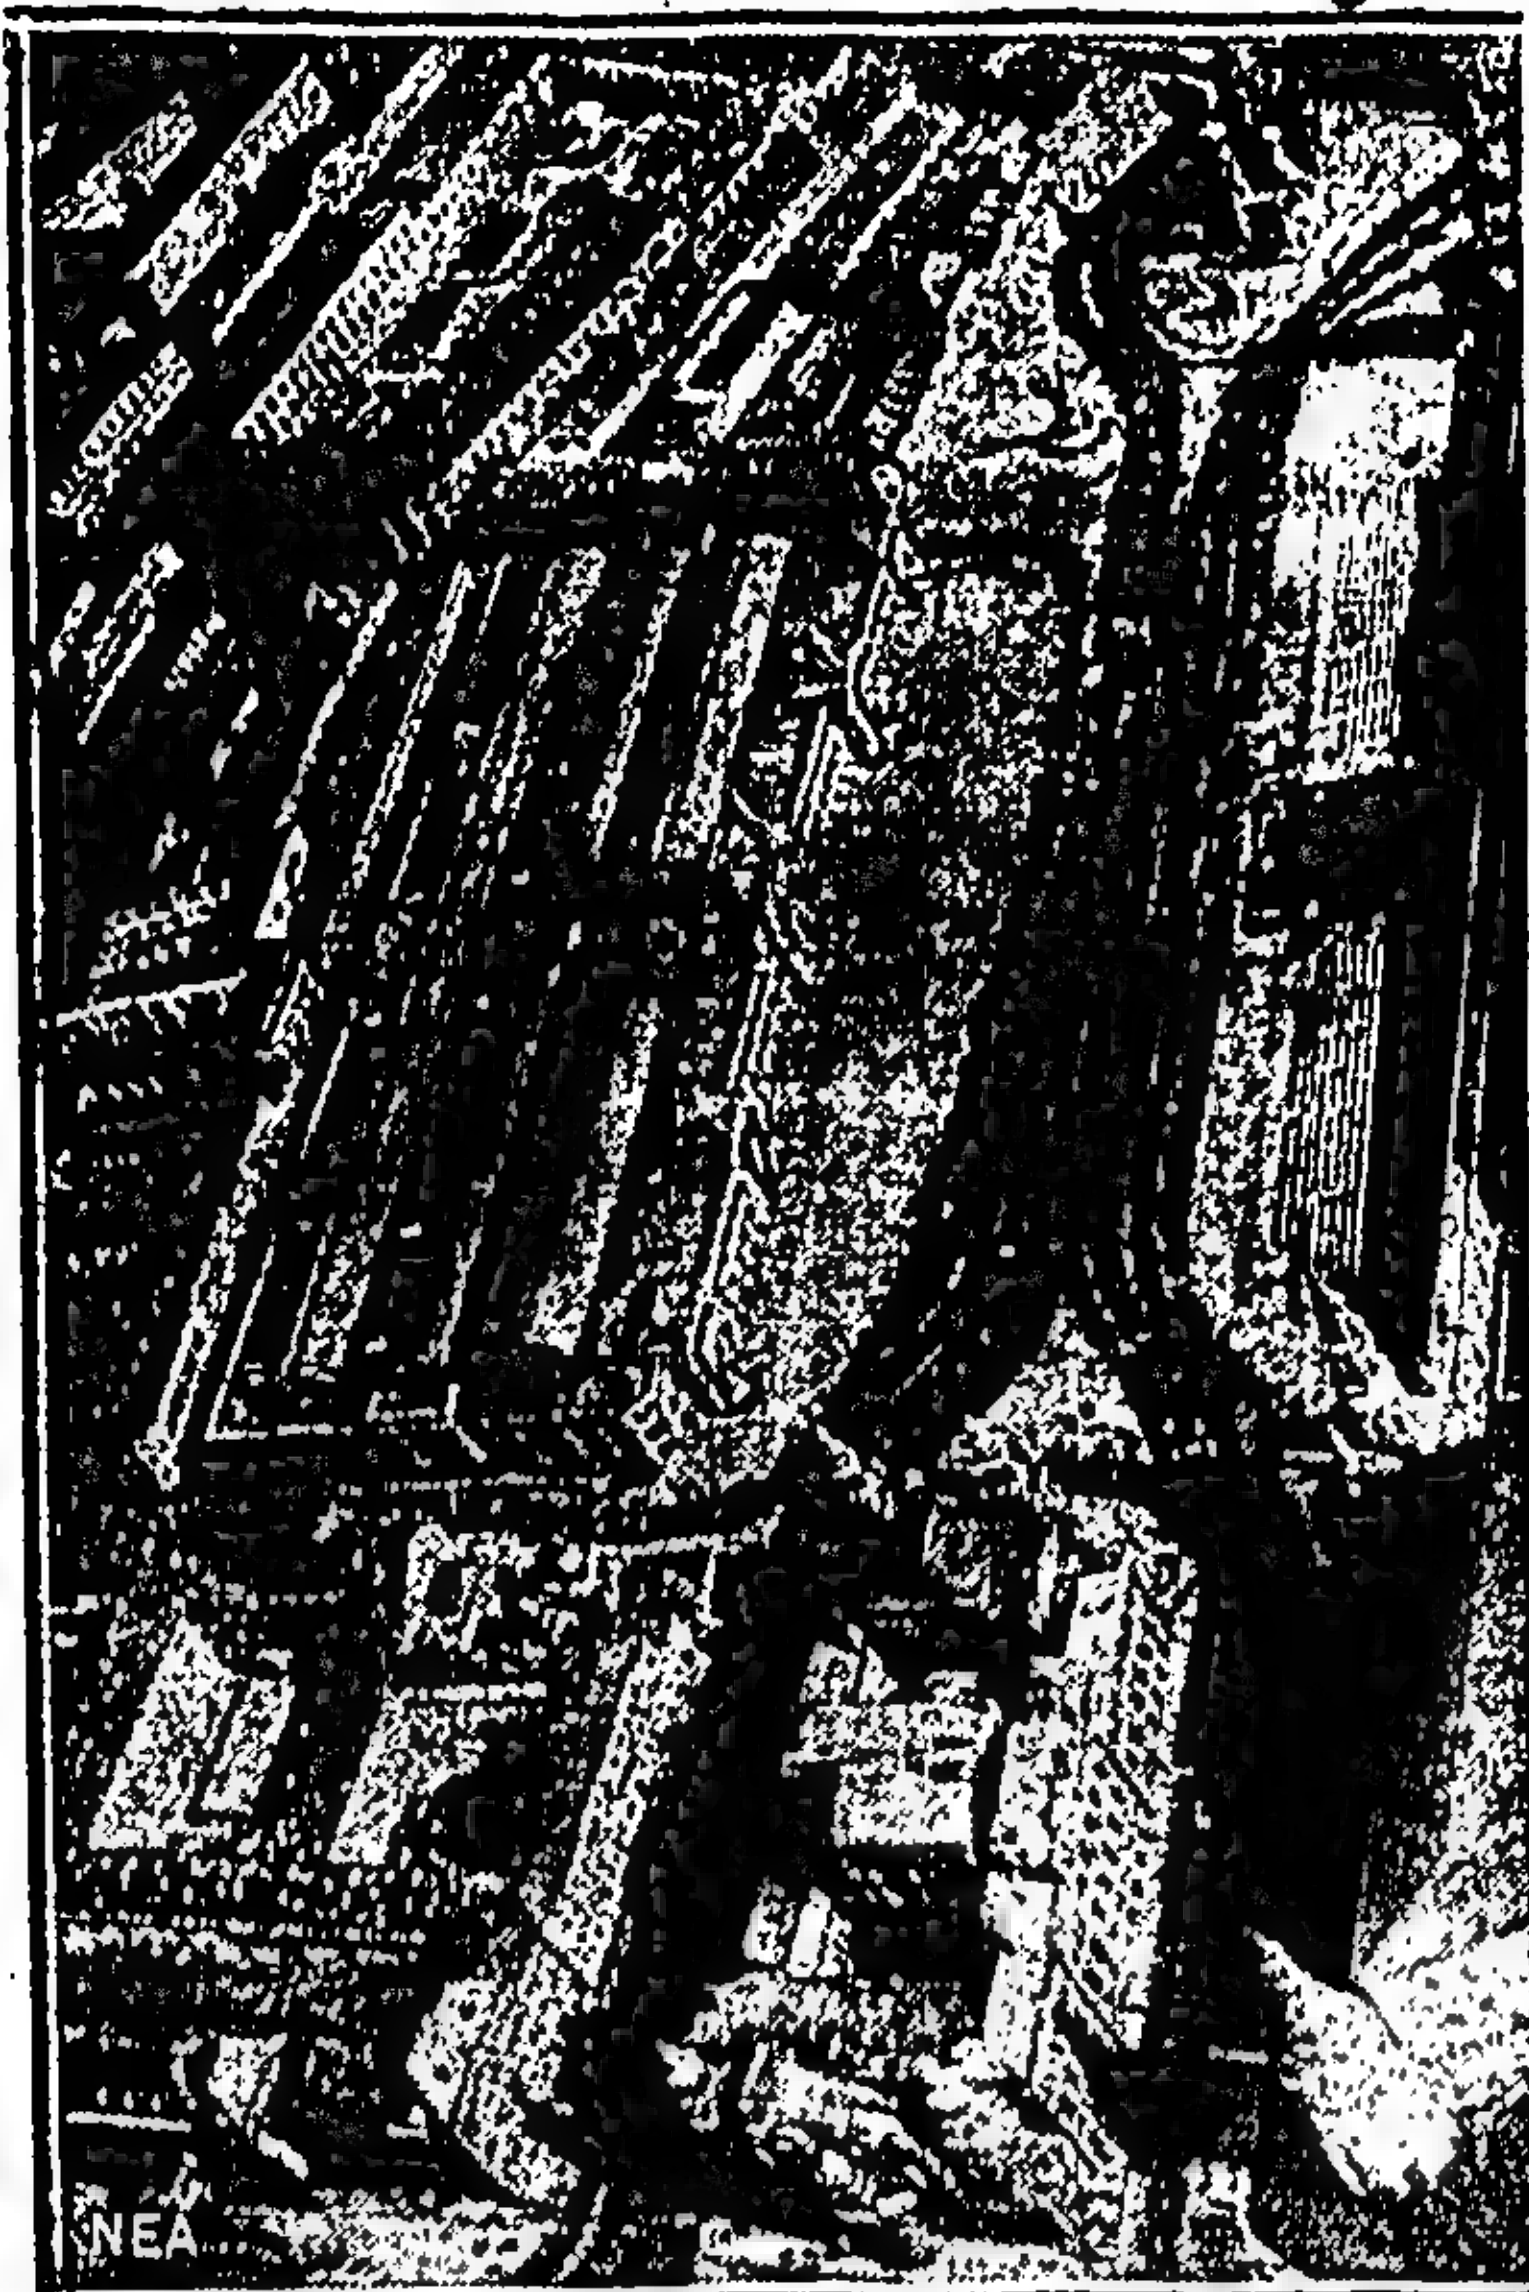

She wondered why people said the young were happy. They certainly weren't. At least she wasn't. She kept reaching out and striving for things she could never have. It would be better to be like Ray, who accepted everything at its face value.

Over their cafeteria luncheon Susan happened to mention the fact that the day was her birthday. Ray widened her eyes.

"My eye! What did the boy friend give you?" Susan smiled. "Haven't any boy friend."

Ray looked shrewd. "Expect me to believe that?" Susan allowed herself a tiny shrug. "You can believe it or not, just as you like. It's true."

"You say—"

Miles of smoking, flaming streets. Hundreds of fire-blackened buildings. Razed houses that left 7,500 persons homeless. That's the scene of utter devastation graphically portrayed in this aerial photo, taken as fire burned down two-thirds of the village of Omiya, in Japan. In the background, aloof, is Fuji's snow-topped peak.

her. "You're plenty good-looking—that is, if anybody likes the tall type. And you could have a good time if you only put your mind to it."

Susan ate her ice cream. "Maybe that's the trouble. I don't care enough," she said.

Ray announced, "It's just plain dumb. That's what it is! If you'd wear some snappy clothes and use a little more makeup, you'd be real good."

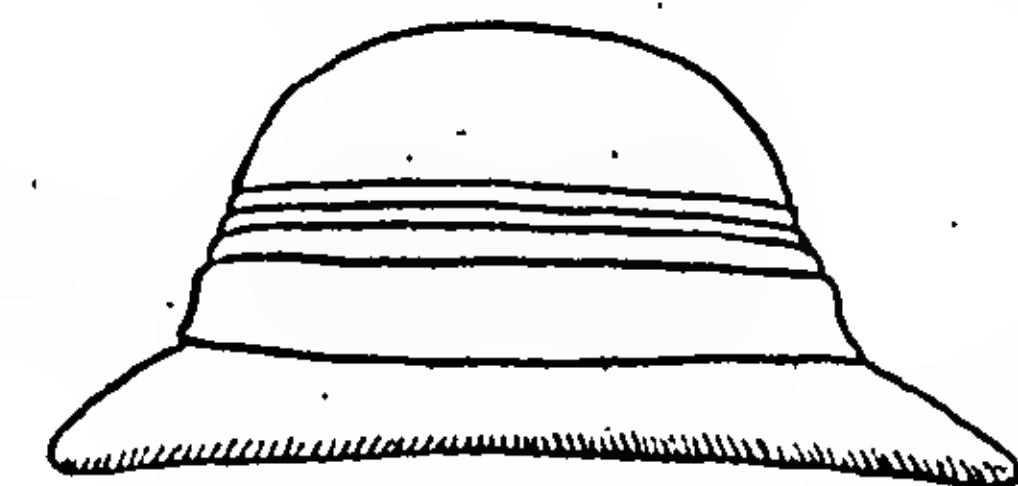

"The house—"

Mamma fix you up?" "You're awfully kind," Susan told her. "I'll think about it." She squeezed Ray's plump little arm as they went out. Yes, it must be comfortable to be like Ray. Life would be simple if you felt as she did about everything.

It was unaccountable but Susan's heart had lightened somewhat. She told Pierson shyly that it was her birthday and he looked about

BEFORE, and when they were first married, he was always the life of the party. Everyone admired his friendly smile. He was never tired, ever ready to go out.

But now! Even his wife is distressed by his lack of energy. He sits at home, and goes nowhere. Parties pass him by and his friends are fast forgetting him.

Pyorrhea has robbed him of his health, and all his finer qualities. For years it lurked there, unnoticed. Then his gums bled. They became soft, spongy and tender. They hurt! Still he did nothing! Soon his teeth loosened at the roots, and several had to be pulled out.

Strength sapped, vitality gone, he is afraid to smile, ashamed even to open his mouth. All because of neglect!

Pyorrhea may be attacking your gums right now. Don't take chances with this dreaded disease. Just brush your teeth twice every day with Furban's for the Gums. More than an ordinary tooth paste, it prevents pyorrhea. It keeps teeth clean and white, gums firm and healthy.

Forban's for the Gums is the formula of R. J. Forban, D.D.S., specialist in mouth diseases. It contains Forban's Pyorrhea Astringent developed by Dr.
 Forban and used by dentists throughout the world in the treatment of pyorrhea.

CINEMA SCREENINGS.

NOTES SUPPLIED BY THE THEATRES.

Without reference to her screen proficiency, Greta Nissen, who plays one of the leading feminine parts in "The Silent Witness", the Fox drama now playing at the King's Theatre, with the international star, Lionel Atwill, in the same role that he created in the stage production of the gripping story, is one of the most talented women in Hollywood.

Miss Nissen is an accomplished pianist, an expert in any style of dancing and she devotes most of her spare time to the art of sculpture.
 This beautiful blonde young lady is unquestionably an actress of great dramatic talent, in fact she is to-day considered the greatest interpreter of siren roles on the screen. This was proven by her splendid performance in the recent film, "Women of All Nations," "Ambassador Bill" and "Good Sport". And it is emphasized by her portrayal in "The Silent Witness" of the alluring but merciless wanton, who leads a boy to the very brink of destruction.

Atwill's part in the picture is that of an indulgent father, who, in order to protect his son from the penalty of a murder charge assumes full responsibility for the crime. Bramwell Fletcher, who also played in the stage production and was last seen in the picture, "Daughter of the Dragon", enacts the role of the son, with Helen Mack, one of the three Fox debutante stars of 1931, sharing leading feminine honours with Miss Nissen.
 Weldon Heyburn completes the list of featured players with such luminaries as Wyndham Standing, Mary Forbes, Alan Mowbray, Billy Bevan, Montague Shaw, Lumden Hare, Herbert Mundin and Eric Wilton in the supporting cast. The film was directed by Marcel Varnel and R. L. Hough, from the stage play of Jack DeLeon and Jack Celestin which Douglas Doly adapted for the screen.

"Cheaters at Play"
 Although both Barbara Weeks, whose father is an aeroplane dealer in Boston, and William Bakewell are accustomed to air travel, they did have a new aerial thrill during the making of "Cheaters at Play", coming next Thursday to the King's Theatre.

The script on this story of sea-going to board a mail-plane of a big liner in mid-ocean and fly to New York. Since only two such liners are equipped for flying their mail to port, and both of them were in European waters when the picture was being filmed, Director Hamilton MacFadden turned to the Navy for assistance.
 A real mail plane was moved bodily aboard the U.S.S. California in Los Angeles Harbour, and as the big battleship headed out to sea Miss Weeks and Bakewell, clad in flying gear climbed into the cockpit of a scouting plane on the California's forward catapult and were shot off into the air while cameras hummed away from strategic points on the vessel's broad decks.

The ensuing scenes form one of the high spots of the picture, but the two players insist that the "kick" they got out of the experience was even greater than any the audience receives.

Thomas Meighan and Charlotte
 Greenwood head the cast of "Cheaters at Play", with Bakewell and Miss Weeks in the romantic leads. The story from a novel by Louis Joseph Vance, deals with the efforts of international crooks to steal some valuable emeralds Miss Greenwood is trying to smuggle into the country. The film is said to be one of the most thrilling productions of the year.

Long Tack Sam.

In Mr. Long Tack Sam's act at the Queen's, charming toilettes are worn by his daughters. One dances in a long and very full gown of white tulle over satin, fashioned in little frills.
 The fitting bodice is sewn with crystal with shoulder straps of narrow straps and the little shoes are also scintillant. The other daughter, who does wonderful things with a violin, appears in a satin blouse in a parchment pink shade. The sleeves are richly embroidered in crystal and are bloused at the wrist, where they are tied in little knots, the waist finish also being embroidered in crystal. This is worn with brief knickers in prune shade.

Another stage gown is in Chinese fashion. Over the richly embroidered suit of turquoise lined with rose is worn a wonderful mantle of silver which is fringed in points, and very finely wrought. In the centre of back and front is a panel of coloured embroidery.

The robes of the company are rich and colourful and Long Tack Sam is in black and silver, in contrast with the varied hues of the garb of the others.

"Suicide Fleet"
 "Suicide Fleet", which is showing at the Central Theatre to-day, is an exciting and very human example of the talking screen's complete conquest of the out-of-doors. It was produced on a huge scale of RKO Pathe with a large cast headed by Bill Boyd, Robert Armstrong, James Gleason,
 Harry Bannister and Ginger Rogers.
 It tells an unusually interesting story without paying the slightest heed to those limitations supposed to restrict the cameras and sound recording apparatus.

The audience is taken on extended cruises aboard Navy destroyers and submarines and whirled through thrilling sea battles in which ships are actually sunk. And not once is it necessary to cling desperately to illusion to believe the whole thing.

The answer is that everything is real, even to the shells from the Navy submarines which strike a powder magazine and send half of a big sailing vessel leaping a thousand feet skyward in what is perhaps the most spectacular photographic shot ever brought to the screen.

Outstanding performances by a capable cast and excellent direction do their part to make this picture the super attraction that has been promised. Bill Boyd never before has appeared to such good advantage as he does in the role of the chief petty officer who knows how to lead men and meet danger. This sort of characterization is ideally suited to his virile personality and rugged physique.

Robert Armstrong and James Gleason, as Boyd's sailor pals, contribute splendid performances and a real motion picture.

Ginger Rogers makes the most of her part as the lass who loves a sailor and provides the necessary touch of romance. Harry Bannister demonstrates that he should be seen more frequently on the screen with a capable performance as commander of an American destroyer division.

Commander Herbert A. Jones gets the credit for the story upon which Lew Lipton's screenplay is based, and F.
 McGraw Willis deserves credit for the natural and, heaven be praised, sparkling dialogue.

Don't miss "Suicide Fleet." It is a real motion picture.

WIN IN RELAY RACE

The first gala water fete of the season organised by the Chinese Bathing Club turned out to be a big success on Saturday evening when the swimming events and a polo match between the C.B.C. and Artillery were witnessed by a gathering of 2,000 spectators. All the events were contested with great keenness.

A most thrilling finish was witnessed in the relay race, which was open to the Colony. The V.R.C. team put up a strong challenge to the C.B.C. contestants, and in a thrilling finish the V.R.C. members lost by a few inches. The other contesting teams were the South Wales Borderers, the Chinese Y.M.C.A. and the Civil Service Bathing Club. The European Y.M.C.A. were unable to compete owing to the absence of one of the members.

The inclusion of the diving items, novelty numbers and races for beginners and women gave variety to the evening's entertainment.

One of the most enjoyable events in the programme was undoubtedly the water polo match played between the C.B.C. and the Artillery. The Chinese played a superior game and had an easy win. Scoring three of the six goals for the C.B.C., Sek Kam-pui was the outstanding player, sharing the evening's honours with another member, Mr. Chan Fok-sing, who did very well in the swimming events.

The blindfold race, the novelty water melon race and pillow fight aroused much laughter from the spectators. The pillow fight in particular proved one of the evening's most popular items.

The swimming committee and its capable secretary, Mr. Chiu Keung-wah, were congratulated for organising such a successful night fete.

Mrs. Peter Doo presented the prizes at the conclusion of the meeting.

V.R.C. Night Fete.

The Victoria Recreation Club held a very successful swimming gala, the second of the season, in the Club's bath on Saturday night, in the presence of a large gathering of members and friends.

L. Roza Pereira showed convincing form to win both the diving event and the life-saving race. H. M. Remedios came first in the 100 yards "A" Class Handicap, an event which was well contested by five other good swimmers. S. V. Gittins and W. Lawrence tied for the second place in this event.

A water polo match at the conclusion of the programme was won by Dr. D. Laing's team, which defeated C. E. Roza Pereira's team by five goals to one. Dr. Laing's men showed better combination and easily penetrated the weak defence of their opponents.

L. Roza Pereira and Dr. Laing netted the goals in the first half for the winners, and three more goals in the second half, Lawrence getting one. B. Gosano netted the only goal for the losers in the first half of the game.

Results:

WHY NOT THE LATEST.

Much has been said about the Economy of Automobile Production by the Motor Giants with world wide manufacturing subsidiaries.

The fact is, of course that an independent manufacturer, provided he has enough production to demand, and get, the lowest prices on raw materials—as Studebaker does—can concentrate manufacturing and General Management to such an advantage that, assuming that Studebaker and one of these giants produce exactly the same car, Studebaker can produce it for less money. It's wise to buy a Studebaker.

These are days in which the League of Nations is being subjected to very considerable criticism, much of it quite undeserved. Amongst the latest charges to be made by unkindly critics is that the League has been guaranteeing large numbers of loans on which there have been defaults, and that as a consequence, British investors have been involved in colossal losses. In view of the somewhat unsatisfactory replies that have been given even in Parliament to questions on this subject, it may perhaps be well to recall some of the real facts. Nine loans have been issued in all under "League auspices," being the Austrian and Hungarian reconstruction loans, the refugee and stabilization loan in Greece, a refugee and stabilization loan in Bulgaria, one loan in Estonia and two in Danzig. The total amount of money involved is a little over £60,000,000 of which, of course, only a fraction was raised in England. All these loans bear very high rates of interest, and the interest has been punctually paid up to now.

The loans were floated largely in consequence of the recommendations of the Brussels Conference of 1920, the members of which were independent experts appointed by their Governments. The British members were Lord Chalmers, G.C.B., formerly Permanent Secretary to the Treasury; Lord Cullen, K.B.E., formerly Governor of the Bank of England, and Mr. Henry Bell, General Manager of Lloyds Bank. The first thing done with their proceeds, especially in Austria, was to repay a number of public and private loans, largely from British sources, which had become entirely bad debts. The reconstruction and refugee loans all obviated the necessity for further charity which was costing many Governments, including the British, enormous sums of money. The securities were in every case first-class and these securities still hold good. The difficulties which have arisen, in two cases only, have arisen not on the problem of collection, but on that of transfer. These difficulties are not confined to League loans. Germany, which has not received a League loan, has practically suspended payment of all debts, public and private, for the past year. Hungary has had a similar standstill agreement, and the League loan is practically the only debt, public or private, which she has been paying for many months past. Only in Bulgaria and Greece are the transfers probably to be suspended, but the collection is going on, the amounts being paid into blocked accounts.

In any case it is well to remember that the financial difficulties of Europe would not have arisen if Governments had followed the financial policy for which the League has continuously stood. Those who are now alleging that the League's plans have not worked are the same people who have been doing their best to prevent them from working. It is as though a gang of train wreckers complained because the trains did not run!

On the Phone.

Telephone engineers, accumulating knowledge about the use of that instrument, some time ago made an interesting study of the words used in 500 average telephone conversations. The words counted up to 79,390, but to make this total only 2240 different words were employed by the telephone talkers. The word "I" was used 3999 times, and the word "you" 3540; "the," "a," "an" and "to" followed in order, though far behind in frequency; and the twenty-five words most frequently used were all of one syllable. It appeared also that the twenty-five most used words were all of ancient English origin, a suggestion of rugged purity in telephone speech that would be more impressive if it were not equally true of the list of short, useful words without which conversation in English would be anywhere seriously embarrassed. "If a telephone system," one reads, "were limited by some rule of nature to carrying not more than 3,000 or so selected words, that comparatively wordless telephone system might still serve the average man without the general discovery that anything was wrong with it." Comparing these words of telephone speech with a like number as they come in printed English, it was found that "I" occurs four times and "you" more than five times as often in the telephone conversations. Spoken and printed speech, however, are dissimilar methods of expression; "I's" and "you's" necessarily occur oftener when two talk together than when one addresses many through the medium of print. But talk by telephone, though the instrument holds the talkers somewhat more closely to the topic that invited them, is much like talk in general; in both cases there are individuals who use much larger vocabularies than most. Expansive talkers, in the enthusiasm of happy conversation, may even forget that they are using a telephone; thought engages thought, and words go back and forth that no student could record as average. But it may fairly be deduced that any man who habitually used a 3000-word telephone system without occasional embarrassment would need hardly more words for ordinary conversation. Obviously, the vocabulary used in everyday print is much larger than the average reader uses in conversation; it may, and does, happen that the reader, turned talker, translates the larger vocabulary into the words of his smaller one. For telephone purpose, it is a good thing that the twenty-five most frequently used words are of ancient English brevity.

ACT, ACT, ACT WITHOUT CEASING, AND YOU WILL NO LONGER TALK OF THE VANITY OF LIFE.—Dimitri.

A sum of $76.98 is said to have been embezzled by a fink of a stall in the Central Market on Sunday when the man disappeared with his master's money.

Believed to be insane, Wong Fat, of 30, Sun Pla Terrace, Shaokiuwan, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital yesterday after he had put his hand through a pane of glass at his residence.

Through falling from the roof of 109 Hennessy Road into the back yard of 14, Fleming Road, a young man named Wing-kam was taken to the Government Civil Hospital suffering from multiple injuries.

A woman, of 84, Sai Yeung Choi Street, Mongkok, was taken to the Kwong Wah Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries to her foot caused by a bamboo pole falling on her from the third floor of 35, Hai-phong Road. Her condition did not necessitate her detention in hospital.

In colliding with a Chinese carrying a pot of tea in Shanghai Street, Leung Wah, aged eight, who was running about on the footpath, was scalded when contents of the pot were spilled on him. He was taken to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment but his condition is not serious.

Those who patronised the King's Theatre yesterday greatly enjoyed "The Silent Witness," an American-produced film in which several British actors appear. The story is one which holds attention from first to last. It concerns the murder of a girl of loose morals, and the audience is left speculating to the end regarding the guilty person. Lionel Atwill has the main role, and his acting is beyond reproach. He is particularly good in the Old Bailey trial scene. Greta Nissen plays the part of the girl with marked success, while others who contribute to the success attained include Bramwell Fletcher and Wyndham Standing. A film not to be missed.

THEFT EPIDEMIC CONTINUES

MORE ROBBERIES REPORTED

The epidemic of robberies continues, several more being reported by the police to-day as having occurred during the week-end. A platinum bangle valued at $160, the property of Miss N. Robinson, a sister of the Government Civil Hospital, was reported to have been stolen from 11, Broadwood Road yesterday afternoon. In a report to the police, Miss Robinson states that the bangle was taken from an unlocked drawer in her bedroom some time between 3.30 p.m. and 7.30 p.m.

Mr. W. Anderson, of Lyceum Buildings, has reported to the police that he either lost or had stolen from outside his residence a set of ear phones used by deaf persons. The articles were valued at $20.

During the past few days some person stole from 47 A Peking Road, ground floor, the residence of Mrs. Burke, a clock and a cigarette case valued at $60.

A WIFE OF YESTERDAY'S MILLIONAIRE

By MARY BORDEN

SHE wasn't very interesting when I met her a year ago. Her husband wasn't ruined then. He was only afraid that he might be, and, not being in the habit of confiding in her his business worries, he didn't tell her how scared he was. Probably he didn't believe himself that what he feared could possibly come true.

His millions had been made easily and he took them for granted. He was a millionaire because he was lucky, and because he was an American, and because fate had willed him to be one. That he could ever be anything but a millionaire was inconceivable. He might be scared to death, but he didn't really believe fate could play him such a dirty trick, and so he made no provision against misfortune.

A Good Provider.

And he didn't tell his wife to expect it. He didn't dare tell her. All he could bring himself to say was that they'd have to go slow, spend less; that he guessed they had better not have that new steam yacht, they had better get along with the old one, it was only two years old, after all; or maybe he went so far as to ask her to give up her cruise to the Greek Islands or Honolulu, and not put the old yacht in commission this summer.

He may even have said something about her dressmaker's and jeweller's bills. But he would hate doing that, for he had always spoiled her, given her everything she needed. He knew that a husband's chief reason for existence was to be a good provider, and he felt he couldn't honestly blame her if she were peevish at having her amusements interfered with, especially the great amusement she called "shopping."

And she was peevish a year ago, when his fate still hung in the balance, just as any spoiled child would be if its toys were taken away from it; and she was curiously indifferent to his worries or his pathetic pleas for economy.

She knew he was worried, but she didn't believe he had any real reason to be, and so she went on her own sweet way, losing fifty pounds an afternoon at contract and buying sixty-guinea dresses by the dozen, just as if there had been no crash in the stock market in 1929.

Then suddenly the bald truth was announced to her. The millions God had given them were gone, clean gone. It wasn't a question now of giving up all hope of a new yacht or a cruise through the Panama Canal in the old one, or of buying six new dresses instead of twelve; it was a question of selling everything they had got left—houses, yachts, motors, jewels—in order to scrape together enough cash to keep the boys at school and pay the butcher.

Much the same sort of thing has happened to hundreds of others. They have gone down in batches, or, if you like, in battalions. The biggest ones held on longest and dropped furthest, that's all. "It's getting every one of us," they tell you. "John or Bill or Sam was caught a bit sooner. I guess he was lucky."

A Practical Woman.

Perhaps it was the suddenness of the shock that saved the millionaire's wife, roused her and transformed her from a spoilt, peevish child into a practical, sensible woman with guts, a sense of humour, the ability to adapt herself quickly to a totally new conception of life and, most astonishing of all, with a fund of generous and loyal affection for the man who had done this to her. Perhaps she always had these qualities, and was simply never asked to display them. In any case, now that she is faced with it, she has played up; this woman who was supposed to take marriage so lightly, change husbands so easily, and be so helplessly fond of money.

I have met a number of these women lately. Sorry for them? No, I'm not sorry for them. Why should I be? They are happy, much happier (if they did not know it) than they were before. Some of them do know it, and say so frankly. They make no attempt to conceal what has happened.

Why should they? All their friends are in the same boat. Some have one general servant now, some have none. They'll ask you to dinner and cook the dinner themselves, and serve it. Nothing could be gayer than such dinner parties.

I think of one woman whom I know very well indeed. Her husband, when she married him, was not what would have been called in those days a very rich man; but they had a lovely town house, an ocean-going yacht, a plantation in the south, and spent two or three hundred thousand dollars a year. She was just a very pretty girl with an empty head who had always had a good time. Now York, Washington, South Carolina, California, and Europe were her happy hunting-grounds.

Then He Cracked.

She wasn't, as American women go, very greedy, and she was a companion to him, but she was very frivolous and gay. She liked doing what he liked, hunting, shooting, fishing, and she looked up to him, thought him wonderfully intelligent.

He was one of the lucky ones, because he cracked early at the very beginning in 1929; but he didn't think so then, neither did she. He was able to sell his house in town and the furniture in it, and his yacht, and with this he started a small business up State, near the Canadian border. His plantation, he couldn't sell. It was a white elephant. His business struggled along; it is still struggling along.

By a tremendous and constant effort he is wringing a bare, uncertain living out of it, but he has to stay up there in the north, and there is no place in that northern wilderness where his wife and children can live. So she lives on the plantation in the south, alone with the children. She has lived there all the winter. It is a very lonely part of the south. She sees no one. Her husband can't afford to get down often. He has been twice in six months for three days, and she can't afford to go to him. Trains are too expensive, hotels are too expensive, everything is too expensive. All she can do is to keep perfectly still, not move off the place. She has no car, anyhow.

I went down to see her, and found her in the big old plantation house alone with her three children and a couple of darkies. She is lovelier than ever. She is teaching the children reading, writing, and arithmetic. She gets up the arithmetic at night, has to study it laboriously.

"Isn't It Grand?"

She is going to take the children north for the summer and live in a camp in the woods, near her husband's business. "Isn't it grand?" she said. "We'll all be together again. Bill's got the camp for six months for three hundred dollars ($60). We can do without any servants up there. Mary, that's the coloured girl, has been teaching me to cook and I'm a dandy cook now. Would you believe it?" She laughed.

I asked after Bill. A wistful look came into her eyes. "Bill's fine," she said. "He's had an awful time, and I guess he's pretty lonely up there, but hard work seems to agree with him. He's never been so well in his life."

"When she saw me off she said, 'If you come back in five years you'll probably find me right here. We'll have gone native by that time, maybe. If Bill's business in the north doesn't plan out, that's what we're going to do.' She looked lovely in the small, sleepy railway station in her blue gingham and farmer's hat. Perhaps she will wear a sunbonnet and grow old under its shade. She won't mind.

Mr. W. Jackson, late Secretary of the Hongkong Stock Exchange, and old resident of Hongkong, advises that he has established himself as a Stock and Share Broker, trading under the firm name of the Hongkong Stock and Share Agency, at Exchange Building (Third Floor).

"I want a book for a man who is laid up with rheumatism, or lumbago—I don't remember which."

QUESTIONS

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board, Mr. M. K. Lo, in pursuance to notice will ask:—

With reference to the Head of the Sanitary Department's replies to my question on the subject of Refuse Removal at the last meeting of this Board:

(1) Will the Head of the Sanitary Department inform this Board as to whether it is the fact that some of the lorries are already provided with covers whilst some are not so provided, and if this is the case will the Head of the Sanitary Department state what is the number of lorries in each category?

(2) Will the Head of the Sanitary Department recommend to Government that all scavenging lorries should be so constructed or altered in such a way that the space for the storage of refuse is divided into a number of separate and self-contained compartments, with a properly fitted and tight-fitting lid for each compartment, and if not, why not?

(3) As regards such lorries (if any) which already possess lids or covers, will the Head of the Sanitary Department instruct the officers in charge not to overload the lorries in such a way that the lids or covers cannot be closed properly?

STAND BY DE VALERA.

It is understood on the highest authority that the Irish Labour Party has decided to stand by de Valera, leader of the Irish Republicans.

Mr. Norton appears to have adopted a belligerent attitude towards the British Government tariff proposals, and is reported to have urged it at the Irish Free State to adopt a policy of reprisals, the Irish people must organise and meet the situation.

Mr. Norton further pointed out that the balance of Anglo-Irish trade was in Ireland's favour.

TO-MORROW'S DEBATE.

To-morrow's House of Commons debate will centre round the motion, to be proposed by Mr. J. H. Thomas, that special duties, not exceeding 100 per cent. ad valorem, may be imposed on articles to be specified, which are imported from the Irish Free State to Britain, direct or through other countries.

The proposed duties will be imposed in addition to those existing at present, and are in consequence of the Free State's non-payment of the land annuities instalment.

VIOLIN TREAT ON FRIDAYRENEE CHEMET'S PROGRAMME

The distinguished French woman violinist, Mme. Renee Chemet, together with her accompanist, Mme. Anca Seidova, and personal manager, Mr. W. F. Schulz, will arrive in the Colony from the North-to-morrow morning by the Andre Lehon.

Mme. Chemet is considered by the leading musical critics of the day to be the world's greatest woman violinist. Her present tour of the Far East appears to have given great pleasure to lovers of violin music, and accordingly enthusiasts here should not lose sight of the fact that Mme. Chemet will give her only recital here at the King's Theatre on Friday evening. The programme to be rendered by the celebrated artist is as follows:

Concerto in A Minor Vivaldi
Concerto in F Minor Ed. Lalo
Piano Chausson
Slavonic Dance Dvorak-Kreisler
Pale Moon Knight-Logan-Kreisler
Dancing Doll Poldini-Kreisler
Miramar Turina-Chemet

NO MORE COFFINS LEFT AT POYANG.

Shanghai, July 3.

Over 1,000 persons have succumbed from cholera at Poyang, in North Kiangsi, during the past week, according to Chinese reports, which state the supply of coffins is exhausted, while in many instances, whole families have been wiped out.

The epidemic has also broken out at Nanchang and other Kiangsi cities.—Reuter.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN
S. N. PETROFFGOVERNMENT DIVER
SUCCUMBS

We much regret having to record the death of Captain Serge Nicolas Petroff, Government diver, which occurred at the Kowloon Hospital this morning.

The deceased, who was 51 years of age, entered hospital on Friday suffering from appendicitis. Peritonitis supervened, and he passed away this morning.

The late Captain Petroff, who was a naturalised Briton, joined the Government service in 1928, and he will be particularly remembered in connexion with the laying of the pipe-line across the harbour, which work was undertaken under his direction. He was greatly liked by all who knew him, and much sympathy will be felt for the widow.

The funeral takes place this evening, passing the Monument at 5.30 p.m.

Capt. Petroff did a great deal of collecting for the Biological Department of the University, and for the local aquarium while it was in existence. His opportunities while exploring the seabed in his diving suit were turned to good account on a number of occasions, so that curious under-water creatures and marine growths, some of which had never been recorded from this locality previously, were brought to light by him, and his valuable assistance is acknowledged in the recently-issued annual report of Hongkong University.

VIRTUOSO AT PENINSULANOTED FILIPINO
VIOLINIST

The Management of the Peninsula Hotel, has succeeded in securing the services of Prof. C. de la Cruz, the Filipino violin virtuoso.

Prof. de la Cruz, who years ago was the leader of the Philippine Constabulary Band, toured the United States where he was received with much favour. He has also played for the Radio in Manila. We quote the following from the Tribune of Manila, following a Violin Recital given by Mr. De la Cruz:

"Playing before a record crowd of music enthusiasts, Conrado de la Cruz, Filipino violin virtuoso, established himself as one of the country's outstanding artists in his recital held at the Opera House. Cool, serene, and restrained, not even allowing himself to be carried away by his mood, he astonished the audience by the finesse of his technique, and the beauty of his interpretation. His fingering and bowing, obligato and harmonica, were masterly controlled."

Mr. de la Cruz will play every evening in the Peninsula Hotel Lounge during the concerts from 7 to 8.15 p.m.

FISHING PARTY
OVERDUEFEARS WHICH WERE UNFOUNDED

Considerable anxiety was caused to the family of a local sportsman who went out fishing on Saturday with a party of friends and did not return home at the hour expected by his relatives.

The report was made to the police by Mrs. E. C. Wong, the wife of Mr. E. C. Wong, of 23, Cumberland Road, Kowloon Tong. It was stated that Mr. Wong and a party of four friends went to Aberdeen to fish on Saturday afternoon but up to the time of making the report on Saturday evening nothing had been heard of them.

The party, however, returned some little time after the report had been made to the police.

CORRESPONDENCE.

An Acknowledgment.

[To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.]

Sir,—Will you please be so good as to allow me to communicate through the medium of the columns of your valuable paper my sincere thanks to all those who have so kindly forwarded "subscriptions" towards the relief of some 500 of Britain's aged War Heroes in Egypt? A copy of the acknowledgment from London will on receipt be sent by me to each subscriber.

Valuable and faithful services were rendered by our horses in the Great War and the matter of their release from their present pitiful and most regrettable plight is one that deserves the fullest support of every animal lover, I think.

I much appreciate your kindness, Sir, in publishing my recent letter with enclosure. Such action is characteristic of the local Press in every deserving cause.—Yours, etc.,

D. DAVIES.

THREAT TO EDITOR

BANDIT OBJECTIONS TO ANTI-RED CAMPAIGN

Harbin, July 3.

The Editor of the Japanese-owned Russian newspaper, the Harbin Times, which recently has been denouncing the activities of a gang of kidnapers known as the Black Dragon gang, has received a letter stating that unless no further such items are published, bandits will raid the premises and kill the Editor and the entire staff.

Yesterday morning the police raided all the cabarets, restaurants and hotels and carried out wholesale arrests for non-possession of "satisfactory documents" or for being unregistered.

Among those arrested and taken into custody were musicians and others described as "important Kuomintang agents" and also alleged communists.—Reuter.

Scarcity of Food.

Harbin, July 3.

Owing to the scarcity of foodstuffs in Aiqun and Tabeiho, the Chambers of Commerce in those two cities have wired here for the immediate despatch of supplies.

The bandit situation near Harbin continues serious. The railway employees at the Melitaitze station, five miles west of Harbin, have been warned by Hsian Hsiong, one of the leading bandit chieftains, that they will all be killed unless they pay ransoms varying between 50 and 2,000 dollars.

The situation at Imienpo is now fairly peaceful and as a consequence the refugees who evacuated here have decided to return to their homes. Conditions between Imienpo and Hailun however, are still unsettled, and many of the inhabitants are evacuating.—Reuter's Special.

LESSON SERMON.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, HONGKONG

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, yesterday.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible—"Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord. And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." (Deut. 6; 4, 5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy—"The divine Principle of the First Commandment, based on the Science of being, by which man demonstrates health, holiness, and life eternal. One infinite God, good, unifies men and nations; constitutes the brotherhood of man; ends wars; fulfills the Scripture, 'Love thy neighbor as thyself,' annihilates pagan and Christian idolatry; whatever is wrong in social, civil, criminal, political, and religious codes; equalizes the sexes; annuls the curse on man, and leaves nothing that can sin, suffer, be punished or destroyed." (p. 340).

Vain Rally

How Britain Lost
Wightman Cup

A LAST THRILL

BRITAIN'S vain effort to snatch a sensational victory in the Wightman Cup been described by Frank Poxon, the well-known sports writer, in the course of which he writes:

It is pointless to discuss the might-have-been, but one cannot help reflecting that we ought to have won one match on the Friday and then the Cup would have been ours.

In the first match on the Saturday Mrs. Wills-Moody beat Miss Dorothy Round at 6-2, 6-3 and I thought the loser played really good lawn tennis. Miss Round was up against a rival who was right at the peak of her form, especially in the last 20 minutes of the match.

SPEED AND CONTROL.

During this period Mrs. Moody hit the ball as hard as she has ever hit it in her life, and yet her control was perfect. There was the "ping" of ball on racket which always indicates really hard hitting. Miss Round fought back most pluckily, but she was more convincing in a long rally than in a short one. She was apt to win a point after working very hard for it and then, a few seconds later, she would throw away a cheap point to neutralise her previous effort. Also Miss Round took rather too late a ball, but these faults apart, she was definitely good. The trouble was that Mrs. Moody was better, and really that is about all one can say.

Then came the first of Great Britain's overdue victories. Mrs. Fearnley-Whittingstall defeated Miss Helen Jacobs at 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

VICTORY WELL EARNED.

It was a thoroughly well-merited win, for, on the full run of the match, Mrs. Whittingstall proved herself to be the superior player. She was as stylish as ever and she made fewer mistakes than usual. Miss Jacobs was hardly keyed up to the pitch she attained on the previous day against Miss Round and it may have been that she could not forget the fact that the Wightman Cup had already been won. Her game just lacked "steel"; even so, every credit must go to the winner for a notable achievement.

Mrs. King (Miss Mudford) beat Mrs. Harper 3-6, 6-3, 6-1. The scores reflect the nature of the play; it took Mrs. King some time to settle down, but when she did so she always calling the tune, her fine forehand drive being a very formidable factor. Mrs. Harper was not really impressive as a singles player; she had far too many loose shots.

THE FINAL THRILL.

Then came the spectacular tit-bit of the afternoon when Miss Betty Nuthall and Mrs. Fearnley-Whittingstall beat Mrs. Wills-Moody and Miss Sarah Palfrey at 6-3, 1-6, 10-8. This was a really sparkling affair, much to the liking of the big crowd; there was really not a dull moment from first to last. I thought Betty Nuthall was just about the best player of the four, and she and Mrs. Whittingstall were a much better "team" than the American pair. Mrs. Moody, as usual, was not so convincing in doubles as she is in singles, and the understanding between her and Miss Palfrey was by no means perfect.

In the final set the games went from one all to eight all, with the English pair always leading by the odd game, and then Great Britain won the next two games for set and match. Well played both!

The United States have now won the Wightman Cup six times and Great Britain four times.

ROWING AT HENLEY.

GERMAN WINS THE DIAMOND
SCULLS

As was expected, the chief challenge for the Diamond Sculls at Henley came from the German triants, of whom H. Buhtz was the chief contender. He rowed No. 3 last year in the Berlinger River Club's eight and was reputed to be stronger than any German sculler who had competed at Henley since the war.

He fully lived up to his reputation and won the final from Bootzelen, a compatriot.

Buhtz beat F. Stephen of the London Rowing Club in 10 minutes, 2 seconds while Bootzelen beat D. Guye, also of the London Rowing Club, by one length in 9 minutes 20 seconds.

"OLD 'UNS"
STILL
FOR BRITAIN'S
CRICKET YOUTH

While youth has had every encouragement from the cricket Selection Committee with a view to inclusion in the next team for Australia, one cannot overlook for a moment the wonderful performances of our stars who are over 40 years of age.

Jack Hobbs (49) has had a wonderful season, and hardly ever goes to the wicket without getting 50 or more. In view of the great difficulty in finding a new partner to open the innings with Sutcliffe, the question readily arises "What about Hobbs after all?"

Frank Woolley (45) has been in superb form recently, and he is the one man whom the Australians have feared in the post-war Test matches.

Jack Hearne (41) is another whose style is ideally suited for Australia. But he, unfortunately, does not enjoy good health.

Patsy Hendren's agility and activity make me believe he is still in the twenties instead of 43.

There is George Geary (39), who made the trip with Chapman's 1928-29, and last year bowled, I believe, 1,300 overs with great success.

There is no question of any of these players getting older; they seem to get younger.

Percy Holmes (44) knows Sutcliffe's running between the wicket better than most, with the exception of Jack Hobbs.

Two other veterans who have been very much in the public eye recently have been Freeman (43), of Kent, and Parker (47), of Gloucestershire.

I wonder sometimes where the young men are coming from to take the places of our old and tried warriors.

LAWN BOWLS

AGAIN

Civil Service, who started the season so well, again suffered defeat on Saturday, when they went down to the Reccreio. Craigen-gower, on the other hand, continue in winning vein.

First Division.

The present leaders and the holders of the title met for the second time, the Craigen-gower C.C. winning on all counts. The Kowloon C.C. held a slight advantage before tea but eventually lost by 18 shots. Scores: G. L. Buchanan, M. O'Brien, C. S. Rosset and R. Bana (Craigen-gower) beat P. T. Farrell, A. C. Burford, H. M. McTavish and J. C. Lyle 26-15.

M. A. R. Souza, L. E. Lamert, D. Rumjahn and B. W. Bradbury (Craigen-gower) beat H. Hampton, P. Goodwin, W. Hyde and J. Fraser 23-21.

AMATEUR FIGHTS
SUSPENDED"AN OUTRAGE"
PRESTON

A sensation followed Mr. Harry Preston's annual charity boxing tournament at Brighton last month.

Carnera who fought a round with five opponents, gave his services free of charge on behalf of local hospitals for which the tournament was organised.

One of his one-round opponents was Captain Ernest V. Chandler, former amateur heavyweight champion of the world.

As a result of going into the ring with Carnera, Captain Chandler has been automatically suspended by the Amateur Boxing Association.

ASSOCIATION'S WARNING.

Captain Chandler, who made an excellent showing against the Italian giant, said after the tournament:

"When I was asked by Mr. Harry Preston about a month ago to box a round with Carnera on behalf of the hospitals, I gladly agreed."

"At similar tournaments in the past I have done the same thing in opposition to Jack Dempsey and Tom Heeney, but I have never heard anything from the Amateur Boxing Association."

"Much to my surprise, I received a letter from the secretary of the Association stating it had been brought to their notice that I was down to appear at this tournament against Carnera, and that if I appeared I should be automatically suspended, as it was not an authorised tournament."

"By a curious chance my name was left off the programme tonight."

"ONLY SPORTSMEN," SAYS

CARNERA.

Carnera was very brief on the subject, but very much to the point. "On an occasion like to-night's," he said, "there is no such thing as an amateur or a professional boxer."

"We are only sportsmen, trying to do our utmost to help those who are temporarily unable to help themselves."

Mr. Harry Preston said: "The whole thing is an outrage."

Mr. Jeff Dickson said: "It appears clear that the Amateur Boxing Association needs some new officials."

Captain Chandler fought as an amateur heavy-weight—in this country and in America. He was never knocked out, but retired.

Brighton Dome was packed for the tournament, which was in aid of the Royal Sussex County Hospital for Sick Children.

Mr. Preston announced that the hospitals will benefit to the extent of £1,200.

The chief event was Carnera's appearance for one round each against the five opponents, including Captain Chandler. The others he fought were Don McCordindale, Walter Neusel, John Pettifer and Jack O'Malley, heavyweight champion of Australia.

None was good enough for Carnera, and the round with McCordindale developed almost into a music hall turn. McCordindale aimed a playful kick at Carnera after a few seconds when the giant let him pound on his body, without apparently producing the slightest effect.

FIGURES
FOR 3/4 OF A MILEGreat Performance at
Stamford Bridge

In the Civil Service sports, at Stamford Bridge J. E. Lovelock, the New Zealand Oxonian, ran from scratch in a specially-framed handicap, and covered three-quarters of a mile in 3 min. 2 1/5 sec., as against the present officially recognised world's record of 3 min. 2 4/5 sec., accomplished by the late T. P. Conneff in 1896.

J. F. Cornes, another Oxonian, who was also on the scratch mark, led at the first quarter in 56 1/5 sec. and at half a mile in 1 min. 57 1/5 sec. Three hundred yards from home Lovelock passed Cornes and came home with a brilliant burst, over the last 80 yards.

Lovelock's time was shown on three watches and the track, on being remeasured, was a foot over the distance. The Frenchman, J. Ladoumègue, however, has done 3 min. 0 3/5 sec., which, if passed, in due course, by the International Federation, would of course remove the claim of a world record.

Lovelock, who has been elected hon. secretary of Oxford University A.C., recently beat the British amateur record for the mile, covering the distance in 4 min. 12 sec., and has also beaten the British record of R. H. Thomas for three-quarters of a mile by 2 4/5 sec.

D. O. Finlay (R.A.F.) gave a splendid exhibition in the 120 yards invitation hurdles race. He made a bad start, but cleared the last six hurdles in faultless style to beat the Oxonian, R. St. G. T. Harper, by a foot in 14 9/10 sec. Finlay's time is only 1/5 sec. outside Lord Burghley's English native record.

Cambridge "May"
ConcludedPEMBROKE HEAD OF
THE RIVER

If a rowing innovation ever justified itself it was the adding of a fourth division to the Cambridge May Races, which recently concluded. This division of 17 crews produced 27 out of the 75 bumps which were recorded.

No fewer than nine crews won their own. Pembroke claim this distinction as they finished, "Head of the River" for the third time since the races were instituted in 1827, and for the first time for two years in succession.

Eight crews made a bump each night. They were Magdalene 1, Selwyn 2, First Trinity 3, Jesus 3, St. Catharine's 3 and 4, Queens' 3 and Clare 3.

Taking all their boats, it was a particularly good year for Jesus and St. Catharine's. The former, though not one of the biggest colleges, had six boats on the river, which was more than any other college.

The "Head of the River" crew was:

Pembroke I.—N. J. Hewlings (bow), 11-0; 2. L. Luxton, 12-5; 3. H. Ballantyne, 11-4; 4. M. G. Pascalis, 12-3; 5. D. H. E. McCowen, 12-8; 6. G. W. Cook, 12-5; 7. W. A. T. Sambell, 12-0; 8. J. R. F. Best (str.), 11-3; 9. J. M. Ranking (cox), 7-0.

On a recent Saturday bumps were made by:

Fourth Division.—Queens' 3, St. Catharine's 3, Downing 2, St. Catharine's 4 and Lady Margaret 5.

Third Division.—Fitzwilliam House, Pembroke 3, Trinity Hall 3, Christ's 3, Corpus Christ 2, Jesus 4.

Second Division.—St. Catharine's 1, Selwyn 2, Jesus 3, Magdalene 1, First Trinity 3.

First Division.—Selwyn 1, Jesus 2, First Trinity 3.

E. S. Abraham, J. W. C. Bonnar, A. T. Hamilton and W. Macfarlane (Yacht Club) beat M. Carvalho, J. J. Banto, H. Rozario and C. H. Banto 21-13.

A. Stevenson, L. S. Greenhill, J. Ross and A. Macfarlane (Yacht Club) lost to F. Prata, J. Itanar, J. G. Ozorio and A. H. Banto 12-30.

Kowloon C.C. v. Kowloon B.G.C. The holders of the honours suffered another defeat when they lost to the Kowloon C. C. on the latter's green by 21 shots. Scores: J. S. Dignan, F. E. Lawrence, L. J. Blackburn and F. G. Herdridge (Kowloon C.C.) beat W. Venables, V. C. Labrum, V. Petherick and F. L. Rapley 32-11.

TERMS TO CHINA

MANCHUKUO OFFER TO TAKE CUSTOMS.

Tokyo, July 2.
 A message from Changchun states that the Manchukuo Government has decided to approach Japan with a counter-proposal regarding the settlement of the Customs question.
 1. China is to acknowledge the transfer to the Manchukuo of all the Manchurian Customs, except at Dairen.
 2. If the jurisdiction of the Dairen Customs is handed over to the Manchukuo the revenues, minus foreign loans security, will go to Nanking.
 3. If not, then all revenues will go to the Manchukuo, which will not be responsible for the mortgaged portion.
 4. After the redemption of all foreign debts, the jurisdiction of all the Manchurian Customs will be transferred to the Manchukuo.

The Raid on Antung.

Shanghai, July 2.
 How a Japanese adviser, with several alleged Manchukuo police in plain clothes, entered the house of the Commissioner of Customs at Antung, in the S.M.R. zone, on June 30, and forced him at the pistol point to hand over the archives, is told in a telegram from the Commissioner received by Sir Frederick Maze to-day.
 The telegram adds: "I protested, saying that such an extraordinary action might cause serious international complications. The Japanese adviser said he had his orders and was prepared to ignore the Japanese Consul and all other interests involved. Upon my sending the British Examiner to the Japanese Consul next door for protection, only the Vice-Consul was present and he stated he had no authority to act!"
 "The staff is still on duty in the railway zone, but three have been arrested by the Manchukuo police. As the latter now have full run of the railway zone, I have given the Consul written notice that I must withdraw if he cannot guarantee their safety. All the Japanese, except Mr. Watanabe, have handed me their resignations. The Manchukuo action here strongly indicates that they will accept no compromise. The staff is in a panic, adding greatly to the difficulties of the situation."

A second telegram received by Sir Frederick Maze says that as the Japanese adviser has not permitted him to carry on the Customs work, even temporarily, he has withdrawn his staff. He adds, however, that he has been assured by the Consul that there will be no repetition in the railway zone of further such illegal acts on the part of the Manchukuo. —Reuter.

Plan Rejected.

Shanghai, July 3.
 It has been learned that Messrs. Wang Ching-wei, T. V. Soong, Lo Wen-kun and Quo Tai-chi had a long conference last night when they discussed the Japanese note embodying the compromise plan for a solution of the Manchurian Customs imbroglio.

It was decided to reject the plan. Mr. Wang Ching-wei and Lo Wen-kun returning to Nanking on the night express.

A large crowd of Chinese and foreigners, including Mr. Lo Wen-kun, Sir John Brennan and Mr. Cunningham, accompanied Mr. Quo Tai-chi, who sailed for London, via Canada, with his wife and child on the Empress of Japan. He expects to arrive in London on August 3. —Reuter.

Raising Revenue.

Interviewed before he left for Nanking, Mr. Wang Ching-wei declared the Government intended to convene shortly a conference of the provincial Governors and the Commissioners of Finance to discuss the amelioration of the economic situation. He said the only means of alleviating the present conditions would be to devise means to raise further revenue, and consequently the Government was considering the re-adjustment of the farm tax.

He added that Marshal Chang Hsueh-liang was expected to go to Kuling shortly to confer with Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, in regard to the "restoration of Manchuria." —Reuter.

her great age. Pierson was 35 and looked 40. Jack Waring arrived at the girl curiously.

"It must be great to be 20," he said. There was a real note of envy in his voice. "What wouldn't I give to be back there, with what I know now! I wouldn't make the same mistakes."

"I've made a lot already," Susan told him almost gayly. "But from this day forward I'm determined not to make any more." She felt happy. She would work hard, she would study, she would read good books and make something of herself. Look at all the women who were great and useful in the world!

It was in this mood of high endeavour that Susan answered her employer's buzzer. Heath seldom rang, preferring to come to the door and summon her.

"Sit down," Ernest Heath told her. His voice sounded strange, almost harsh. Susan obeyed without taking her eyes from his dark, aristocratic face. There was something in his expression that vaguely alarmed her.

"Miss Carey," Heath went on, clearing his throat. "I've something unpleasant to tell you. Mrs. Heath is threatening to sue you for alienation of my affections."

Susan stared, a child's unwinking stare. The horror of what he had said had not fully penetrated her consciousness. She faltered. "But that's absurd! She can't do that."

The body of Mr. T. A. Henry, who disappeared while swimming at Laichikok Beach on Friday afternoon, was recovered yesterday about 3.30 p.m. It was noticed by an Indian watchman, and found under a rock about 50 yards from the Standard Oil Company's wharf, where it had apparently been washed by the tide.

Tsung-chien, arrived in Shanghai to-day. It is reported that the purpose of their visit is to discuss with Mr. T. V. Soong the question of the Manchurian Customs, as well as to bid farewell to Mr. Quo Tai-chi, who is sailing for London to-morrow on the Empress of Japan, together with General Chiang Tso-pin, who is leaving for Tokyo on the 6th inst. to resume his post of Minister. Chiang Tso-pin emphatically denies the report that he is taking to Tokyo a formula for the solution of the Sino-Japanese dispute. He says he must first sound out the attitude of the Japanese Government before any step can be taken. —Reuter.

REPARATIONS PLAN

Lausanne, July 3.
A Franco-British agreement has been reached on all points.
Firm confidence that after all the Conference is going to be a huge success pervades all the creditor delegations.
As the result of the agreement regarding inter-creditor difficulties, it is regarded as practically certain that the German delegates will accept, thereby opening the door to a big world conference.—Reuter.

Rejection Expected.

Lausanne, July 3.
Herr Von Papen and Herr Von Neurath will give Mr. Ramsay MacDonald at 9 a.m. on Sunday the German answer, which will almost certainly reject the allied proposal for the payment of 4,200,000,000 Reichsmarks.—Reuter.

Italy Pleased Also.

Rome, July 3.
Notwithstanding the fact that Italy will stand to lose over £2,000,000 annually in the difference between Reparations and War Debts, and unlike Britain and America has no frozen credits in Germany which may be thawed by a settlement at Lausanne, today's tentative agreement in principle is warmly welcomed.—Reuter's Special Service.

German Objections.

Lausanne, July 3.
Mr. MacDonald has defied the doctor's orders for he embarked early today on an important series of interviews and negotiations. Signor Grandi was the first visitor at 8.30 a.m. and was followed by Herr von Papen and Herr Neurath and then a brief meeting of the five members of the Bureau, which adjourned until 5 p.m.

As anticipated, the Germans are objecting to the figures of the payment and certain conditions and it is expected that the process of bargaining will last for 24 hours. There are no fundamental questions at issue. Mr. MacDonald announced he was prepared to stay a day or two longer, until Tuesday if necessary to conclude the work of the conference.—Reuter.

The Fateful Day.

Lausanne, July 2.
To-morrow will be a fateful day for the Conference, when the final proposals by the Five Powers are to be submitted to the German Delegation.

It is understood that the methods regarding the payment of a lump sum have been fixed and a tentative agreement has been reached on the amount of 4,500,000,000 marks.

A formula has also been devised for safeguarding the clause which, it is understood, will avoid any direct mention of the United States.

The question of the venue for the World Economic Conference will also be discussed and it is generally favoured in the proposals that it be held under the auspices of the League, similar to the Disarmament Conference. This would rule out London as the seat of the meeting, but it is feared that this proposal will also compromise the prospect of the

MOTOR MISHAPS.

CAR COLLIDES WITH BICYCLE

A minor motor mishap in which Mrs. L. A. Osmund of 111, Boundary Street, Kowloon Tong, was involved was reported to the Police on Saturday, when it was stated that a motor car which she was driving collided with a bicycle.

Mrs. Osmund who holds a learner's licence, was driving a motor car in Waterloo Road on Saturday night and at the junction of Peace Avenue she collided with a bicycle which was being ridden by an unknown Chinese male. The bicycle was damaged but no person was injured.

Girl Knocked Down.

Mr. R. G. Lee, of 1, Morton Terrace, notified the Police on Friday night that whilst he was driving a motor cycle in Queen's Road, East, at about 8.30 p.m. he knocked down a Chinese girl near Arsenal Street. The girl was taken to the Government Civil Hospital but not detained.

A ten year-old Chinese boy, Ho Ming, of 21, Centre Street, was knocked down by a public motor car in Queen's Road, West near Centre Street on Friday, but his injuries were not of a serious nature and his father refused to allow him to go to Hospital.

Whilst driving a public motor car in Upper Albert Road, near Albany, Ip Ngau-chu knocked down a twelve-year-old Chinese boy, So Yat-lai, of 140 Wellington Street, causing bruises to the left leg and body.

United States participation.—Reuter.

Premiers Confer.

Accompanied by M. Germain Martin, M. Herriot, who arrived from Paris this morning, conferred with Mr. Ramsay MacDonald and Mr. Walter Runciman regarding the terms of the plan which includes the prolongation of the moratorium for three years and thereafter until Germany's ability to meet the annuities is determined.

The morning meeting, the results of which Herr Von Neurath and a crowd of eager journalists were waiting to hear, failed to produce a complete agreement, and it is understood that the figure of the German contribution to the European Reconstruction Fund was the stumbling block.

The English and French Premiers will meet again at 4 p.m.

The meeting of the Bureau fixed for 10 a.m. was postponed until 5 p.m.—Reuter.

A Global Payment.

Lausanne, July 2.
According to French sources the balance worked out by the Bureau, not including the German delegates, comprises a single global payment with specific guarantees for the service of interest and a sinking fund.

Bonds will be handed to the Bank of International Settlements, which will determine when they are to be issued and how payments are to be effected.

A special chapter details the arrangements for the working of the common fund, and it is understood that a safeguarding clause is circumscribed by a provision which allows money to be utilised in "other directions," whereby the American war debts are presumably camouflaged.—Reuter.

'CLEAR OUT' ORDER TO STUDENTS

DEVELOPMENTS IN VARSITY SQUABBLE

(Telegraph Special.)

Shanghai, July 4. Two national Universities—the Nanking Central University and the Tsingtao University—to-day deserted their Alma Mater.

Students, who have made intolerable the lives of their respective Chancellors, were ordered by the Government to leave the premises.

Those at the Central University did so after many protests which failed to move the authorities, whilst the students at the Tsingtao University carried out the evacuation without demur.

PROFESSORS' POSITION.

A peculiar position prevails at the Central University, where the professors notified the authorities they would not leave the building until they had received their salaries and arrears from the Executive Yuan to whom the professors had appealed.

The Executive Yuan referred them to the Ministry of Education, but as yet the demands have not been met.—Reuter.

ALLEGED ROBBERY SEQUEL

PARTNER ACCUSED OF LARCENY

Three Chinese were brought before Mr. Fraser at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning on a charge of larceny by partner of partnership property of $300 on the morning of July 2.

It will be recalled that a report of a highway robbery in Taiipo Road was made to the police by Ngai Yau, one of the three defendants, who stated he had been robbed of $300. Detective Sergeant Goodwin was detailed to make inquiries, and as a result of his investigations, he was not satisfied that the story was true.

Accordingly, acting on suspicion he questioned Ngai Yau and his two fellows who were said to be present when the robbery took place. He finally decided to search them, and on one, he found a $100 note tied to his leg. The police alleged that this was part of the money purported to have been stolen.

The money is said to have belonged to a firm of contractors of which Ngai Yau was a partner. Sergeant Goodwin applied for a formal remand which was granted.

GOVT. TROOPS MASSING

ANTI-COMMUNIST DRIVE READY

Shanghai, July 4. It is reported that the situation along the Peking-Hankow Railway near the Honan-Hupeh border, where Communists have been creating trouble, is rapidly returning to normal.

This is a result of a defeat inflicted on the Communists by the Government forces. The troops are now massing at Hainan and Kwangsi preparatory to the launching of a big-scale offensive by General Liu Shih, who is directing the drive, and who has established his headquarters at Mingkan, on the Peking-Hankow Railway.—Reuter.

THEFT OF RAZOR BLADES

FORMER GODOWN MAN GAOLED

The theft of 1,000 packets of razor blades from the Kowloon Godowns had a sequel at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court this morning when Yeung Yin, a former employee, was charged with theft of 25 packets of these blades.

Prosecuting, Inspector Elston said on June 23, a case containing razor blades was broken open and 1,000 packets taken. Acting on information, the police, raided defendant's house and found three packets there. Questioned, defendant admitted having stolen 25 packets.

The police officer added that defendant was formerly employed at the Godowns. Sometime ago he was charged with theft with two others, but was discharged. He was, however, dismissed by the company.

Sentence of six weeks, hard labour was imposed.

MOTOR CARS IN COLLISION

CASTLE PEAK ROAD INCIDENT

Whilst driving his motor car behind another vehicle on the Castle Peak Road yesterday afternoon, Yee Tung-chuen, of 197, Nam Chang Street, collided with the front car when it suddenly stopped as the gates of the railway crossing were being lowered.

Ma Sai-yuen, Police interpreter at the Shamshui Police Station, who was a passenger in the rear car, struck his head against the wind screen and received a cut over the right eye. He was taken to the Kowloon Hospital for treatment, but the injury was not of a serious nature.

BIG RUSH TO CONVERT WAR LOAN

BUSINESS FIRMS GIVE LEAD

London, July 4. The Bank of England, and the Post Office Savings Bank report a big rush to convert the 5 per cent. War Loan.

Among the early applications are those of Messrs. Harrod's (£600,000), Messrs. Whiteley's (£145,000) and the National Union of Teachers (£172,000).

The N.U.T. secretary emphasises that the Union is converting its holdings "despite the 10 per cent. salary 'cut' which the Government has imposed upon us."

One holder has applied for cancellation of his holdings instead of conversion.—Reuter.

NEW YORK TRAMPLE ON BOSTON RED SOX

Pittsburgh's Important Win Over Chicago

New York, July 3. Following two defeats by the Boston Red Sox, the New York Yankees left nothing to chance in their game to-day and ran out winners by 13-2. The encounter between the Senators and the Athletics resulted in the latter securing another victory.

In the National League Pittsburgh again assume the top position by virtue of a victory over Chicago who displaced the Pirates over the week-end. Boston Braves are losing their grip on the championship and have suffered another defeat.

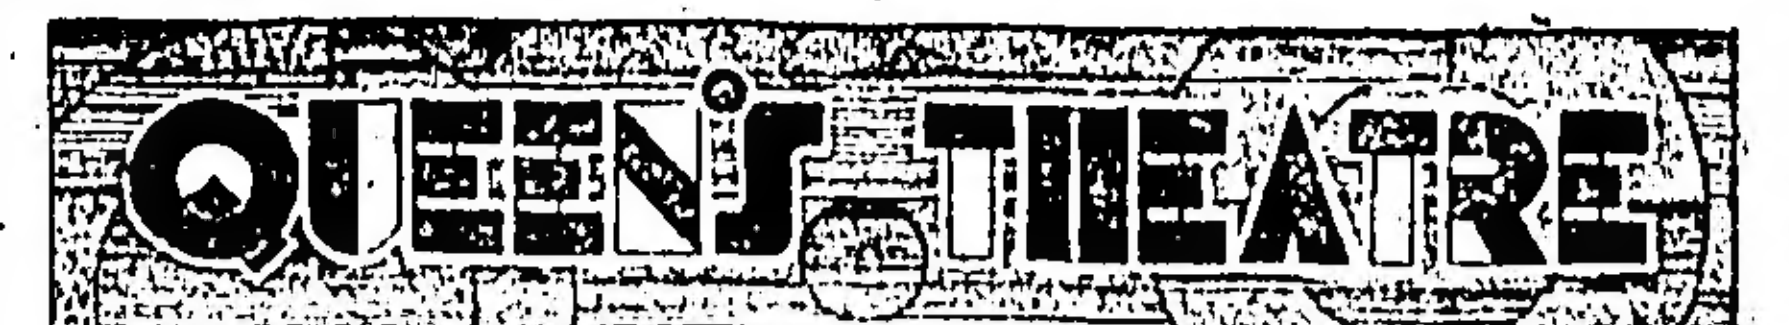

The results follow:

National League.
New York	5	Boston	3
Brooklyn	3	Philadelphia	4
Cincinnati	4	St. Louis	2
Chicago	4	Pittsburgh	5

American League.
Washington	3	Philadelphia	4
Boston	2	New York	13
Detroit	4	Cleveland	7
St. Louis	4	Chicago	2

In the tie between Detroit and Cleveland Indians, Earle Averill scored a home run for the winners.—Reuter.

The Royal Observatory reports that pressure is highest over the Pacific to the south-east of Japan. It is relatively low over the Northern China Sea and to the north-west of Shanghai. Local forecast:—S.E. winds, moderate; cloudy, showery.
